AUDITORIUM MEETING.

Joint gathering, at 8 p. m., on general theme, "Christian Social Service."

Address by Dr. Charles Steizle, of New York, superintendent bureau of social service, U. S. A. assembly, presiding officer of the evening.

"Christian Citizenship and the Social Evil"—Address by Marion M. Jackson, of Atlanta.

"The Church and Its Relation to Industrial and Social Problems"—Address by James A. MacDonald, managing editor The Toronto Globe.

By Charles W. Welch.

Not in the history of the American church has such a communion service been held as the one of yesterday afternoon in the Tabernacle, conducted by the presiding officers of the three general assemblies not meeting in this city. The days preceding and immediately following Appomattox were forgotten and sectional division and denominational lines were wiped away. Hearts which had been regaled during past years by the oft-told stories of the war of the rebellion, in which brethren were arrayed against each other in deadly strife, when the hot breath of passion had blasted the flowers of love, forgot their feelings of resentment and worshiped with their minds opened toward Calvary.

Earlier in the day when the dull grind of an assembly's second day's routine had lulled to listlessness the majority of the commissioners of the Northern assembly, the report of the executive committee dealing with the deliverances of the special committee on Christian life and work struck a note which brought to instant attention everyone present. The evils growing out of the widespread laxity regarding marriage and divorce have increased, and the committee said so in no uncertain tone. The Revs. William C. Covert, D.D., and Mark A. Matthews, D.D., voicing the sentiments of a responsive following.

All Are Slumbering.

Lawyers, doctors, ministers and churches are slumbering when such evils are growing with an unprecedented stimulus, the committee thought, and the effort to arouse

DEMOCRATS BAR PUBLIC HEARINGS ON TARIFF BILL

Leaders Indorsed in Their Determination to Have Measure Referred to Finance Committee.

JAMES BACKS PRESIDENT FOR FREE SUGAR STAND

Leaders Indorsed in Determination to Have Measure Referred to Finance Committee Without Hearings.

Washington, May 16.—Democratic leaders in the senate were indorsed late today in their determination to refer the Underwood tariff bill to the finance committee for consideration without public hearings. The Penrose-LaFollette amendment directing that public hearings be held was defeated by a vote of 41 to 36, and the motion of Senator Simmons to refer the bill was then passed without a roll call.

Two democrats, Senators Randdell and Thornton, of Louisiana, voted for the republican amendment. Senator Poindexter, of Washington, progressive, voted with the majority. Senator Jones, of Washington, republican, who previously had determined to vote against public hearings, announced that he had changed his mind because the finance subcommittees were giving private hearings to some interests which he thought should be public.

James Defends Wilson.

The closing day of debates on the issue of hearings was enlivened with discussion of the democratic platform and its bearing on free sugar by Senator James, of Kentucky, who vigorously defended the stand taken by President Wilson for free sugar, declared that the party had stood for free sugar and campaigned on it, and defied the Louisiana senators to find a man President Wilson ever had told he was opposed to free sugar.

Senators Smoot, LaFollette and Clark wound up the debate on behalf of the public hearings amendment, Senator Smoot predicting that the democratic party would be put out of power for another quarter of a century as a result of its tariff bill.

"The edict has gone forth," said Senator Clark. "The real vote on this tariff bill will be taken here as in the house, where it was taken in secret caucus. I know there are democrats here who do not believe the bill is just and righteous altogether, who are willing to bow the head to the demand of office and ease the lash of party expediency."

Senator Newlands, of Nevada, spoke briefly on the sugar schedule, protesting against sacrificing the sugar production of this country to Cuba.

Subcommittee to Report.

The finance committee will meet next week to hear reports from the subcommittees engaged in consideration of various schedules of the bill, and chairman Simmons hopes to report the bill to the senate by June 1.

Great interest was manifested in the final contest over the hearings questions, said, "heartily welcomes Mr. Burns. We are delighted to have aid in arriving at the truth of the case, no matter from which source it comes. However, Mr. Burns will have to get his information first hand, so far as this office is concerned.

"We accept the statement without question that his employment is in entire good faith, but our attitude toward him is to be the same as our attitude toward the Pinkertons, namely, that he will be expected to give and not to receive. The work being done by the city detectives is entirely satisfactory."

The solicitor added that there were absolutely no new developments in Friday's investigation. Detective John Black, of police headquarters, stated that the police had unearthed nothing new, and that there were few prospects of developments in the near future.

Herbert Scheiff Summoned.

Herbert G. Schiff, chief clerk of the National Pencil factory, has been summoned before the solicitor, and had made a stenographic statement. Also, he was ordered to bring the plant's books and papers to Mr. Dorsey's office.

A number of witnesses were examined by Dorsey Friday. Last night another conference was held between him, members of his staff and detectives from headquarters. They were only arranging the evidence at hand preparatory to its presentation before the grand jury, it was said.

One of the witnesses who testified before the solicitor Friday was M. B. Darley, assistant superintendent of the National Pencil factory, who has taken charge of Frank's position of general superintendent during the latter's imprisonment. Mr. Dorsey would not divulge the nature of Darley's testimony.

Lowenstein Subscribes.

To add to the numerous donations to the Burns fund, William J. Lowenstein, a well-known Atlanta business man, informed a reporter for The Constitution last night that he would subscribe $10.

"Like the entire business world of the city," he said, "I am extremely anxious to apprehend the guilty party, whoever he may be. I believe Burns can do it. Let us get him, anyhow. If he can not clear the mystery, it is beyond solution."

Charley Jones Subscribes.

Charley Jones, the well-known proprietor of the Rex saloon, last night contributed through The Constitution $25 for the Burns fund. He expressed confidence in the famous detective, and declared his opinion that, as result of Burns' investigation, the mystery would be solved in an amazingly short time.

DEMOCRATS PLANNING BATTLES OF FUTURE

dded to appeal to the states for contributions.

Approved by Wilson.

The situation generally and the need for immediate organized campaign work were discussed at two sessions of the committee. The conferences will be resumed tomorrow. The committeemen, accompanied by Mr. Fenge, called at the white house and explained the plans to President Wilson, who voiced his hearty approval.

At the outset of tomorrow's meeting the committees will confer with Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, chairman, and Representative Page, of North Carolina, secretary, the existing officers of the democratic congressional committee, who were directed at a recent meeting to consult with the national committee, the president and democratic senators regarding the president's proposal that the numerical strength of senators on the congressional committee be increased.

It is probable that the congressional committee will be asked to name three representatives and two senators to serve on a joint executive campaign committee for conducting the political battles during the next four years. The party leaders contemplate sending out speakers under the auspices of the joint committee.

Major Willa V. Johnson.

Major Willa V. Johnson, a confederate soldier, formerly of the staff of General John C. Breckenridge, and later with General Joseph Johnston and General Wood, in Georgia, died on May 6 in Colorado, Texas. His death will be mourned by his many friends throughout the south. He was the son of Governor George W. Johnson, of Kentucky. Major Johnson is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Samuel P. Blanc, of Atlanta, and a cousin, Harvey Johnson.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK DISCUSSED

Interesting Addresses Delivered at the Second Union Mass Meeting Held at the Auditorium.

Evangelism from the point of the Sunday school, the pastor and the individual, was fully discussed in all phases last night at the second union meeting of the Presbyterian assemblies in the Atlanta Auditorium.

Rev. A. L. Phillips, of Richmond, Va., of the Presbyterian church in the United States, presided, and in introducing the first speaker, Rev. Hugh W. Rankin, of the U. S. A. church, said:

"You are going to listen to a man who has been on the firing line of Christianity for more than a quarter of a century. He is one of the pioneers of Sabbath school work in Dixie, and has lived the life he preaches."

Dr. Rankin told of his early experiences in the far west, in the days when "a gun" was as necessary equipment to a cowboy as the fence of the corral.

Tried to Shoot-Up Meeting.

"I was holding a meeting once out in a little western town in an old tent," he said. "A crowd of cowboys took a notion to shoot us up—and they nearly did it. Bullets ripped through that old tent like hail. But we didn't run—I knew that the Lord would protect us. Raising my voice in that old hymn, 'Rock of Ages, Cleft for Me,' I held my audience. Three weeks later we raised $1,000 in that very town in less than 30 minutes with which to build a church—and the church was built in three days. And most of the cowboys who tried to shoot us up helped in both undertakings."

In the twenty-five years that Dr. Rankin has been in the field as a Sunday school evangelist, he has seen this force of Sunday school workers grow from 16 evangelists to 125, covering every state in the union.

"The party who tries to convert others by personal evangelism must know the power of prayer, the power of an intimate relation with God," said Dr. W. E. McCulloch, of Pittsburg, representing the United Presbyterian church.

"It is to our shame that personal evangelism has not been used in the past as it should," he continued. "Of the 188 societies of the United Presbyterian church, not a single conversion by profession of faith was made last year.

Pulpit Appeal Often Scatters.

"It has been said that a Christian is a man who is working toward the same end as God. Then let us work with the individual, with the strength of God behind us.

"The pulpit appeal too often scatters, it is the personal touch that oftener reaches the mark."

The last speaker of the evening, Dr. John R. Davies, gave an exhaustive account of "Gods work in the centuries through His pastors."

Dr. Davies traced the history of Protestantism from its earliest inception until the present day, showing how small matters often influenced the lives of great men, which in turn had a like influence upon the epoch in which they lived.

While last night's meeting was not as large from the point of attendance as Thursday night's, yet th esame enthusiasm prevailed.

MORTUARY

Funeral of James W. Maddox.

Jackson, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—The body of James W. Maddox, who met his death at Tallulah Lodge the first of the week by falling from a 40-foot wall, was brought here for interment this afternoon. His father, Charles L. Maddox, received a message from the Northern Contracting company telling of his death Monday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted from Beulah church, in the country, by Rev. J. S. Lewis, of Flovilla, and the body was carried to the Maddox family bursting ground for interment.

Mrs. Mattie E. Sewell.

The funeral of Mrs. Mattie E. Sewell, aged 56, who died Friday morning at her home, Lakewood Heights, will be held at noon today at Lakewood Heights Baptist church. The interment will be at Forest Park. She is survived by her husband, J. T. Sewell, four brothers, Rev. J. E. Daniel, F. O., L. C. and C. L. Daniel, and a sister, Mrs. J. M. Stanley.

Ezekiel C. Dawson.

Ezekiel C. Dawson, aged 66, died Friday night at the Confederate Soldiers' home. His body was taken to Poole's undertaking parlors on South Fryor street, and interment will be announced later. Mr. Dawson, who was a native of Upson county, is survived by one brother, S. N. Dawson, of Thomaston. He enlisted in company E, Second Georgia Reserves in June, 1864, and served in the southern armies until the close of the war.

Mrs. Mary Lawrence.

Mrs. Mary Lawrence, aged 71, died Friday afternoon at her home, 198 Sunset avenue. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. R. W. Jones, Mrs. C. E. Crawford, Mrs. Nancy Moore and Mrs. Tommie McCord. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

J. M. Cook.

The funeral of J. M. Cook, aged 50, who died Thursday, will be held at 2 o'clock today at his late residence, 53 English avenue. Interment will be at Hollywood. He is survived by his wife and was a member of Fulton lodge of Odd Fellows and of Choctaw Tribe of Red Men.

Mrs. Louise Curtis Wing.

The funeral of Mrs. Louise Curtis Wing, aged 52, who died Thursday, will be held at 10 o'clock today at her late residence on South Moreland avenue. Rev. N. B. O'Kelly will officiate. The deacons of the Capitol avenue Baptist church will act as pallbearers.

Richard Allen Boon

Richard Allen Boon, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Boon, was shot Thursday night, and the funeral will be from Greenberg & Bond company's chapel at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be at Hollywood.

J. E. Garrity.

J. E. Garrity, an engineer of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, died Thursday night at 9 o'clock in a private sanitarium. He is survived by a wife and one son. The body will be sent to Pittsburg, Ga., at 10:15 o'clock tonight for funeral and interment.

THREE ASSEMBLIES JOIN IN COMMUNION

these agencies received the indorsement of the assembly.

Eight hundred thousand men and women are incarcerated in the jails of this country every year, according to McKenzie Cleland, of Chicago, who addressed the three assemblies here yesterday regarding the church's responsibilities regarding the matter.

Declaring that Christian Science and other rapidly spreading cults are a menace to the church, a remarkable report was submitted to the assembly Friday afternoon at the tabernacle, and was adopted unanimously by that body.

Christian Science was named as one of those cults which ignore the fundamental principles of Christianity—even ignore Christ Himself. These cults were declared to have already wrought much injury to the church, through the apathy with which their spread as been allowed by the religious leaders of the nation. If the church had been awake to its mission in the world, Christian Science would never have obtained the foothold which it now enjoys, the report said. More attention should have been paid to the efficacy of prayer, and the healing of the spirit and the body by spiritual means.

Approximately half a million dollars have been raised by the woman's board of the Northern Presbyterian church during the year just closing. Great rivalry was entered into yesterday in the Central Congregational church when the synodical societies attempted to surpass each other in attendance. New York synod led with 3' delegates present, Tennessee came next with 24 delegates and Pennsylvania and Ohio followed with 21 each.

Marriage and Divorce.

The adoption of an amendment to the report on marriage and divorce created the first lively discussion of the afternoon. Dr. William C. Covert, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Chicago, made a motion that uniform divorce laws should be adopted as the policy of the general assembly.

Dr. Mark A. Matthews, the retiring moderator, who presented the report of the committee on marriage and divorce, declared that we do not know whether a uniform divorce law would be best or not. It might, he said, unfavorably affect strong laws now existing, and it might result in the selection of the state having the weakest law being made the standard for all of the states in a uniform marriage law.

"The only cure for divorce evils is a uniform law!" Dr. Covert said, as he insisted upon his amendment.

"This is a question of state's rights," replied Dr. Matthews. "We do not know whether the nation has the right to come in and take away the right of the state to regulate its own divorce laws. Perhaps the nation has the same right as it does over Mormonism for divorce is Mormonism under legal sanction."

C. M. Saylor, an elder, from Huntington, Ind., and a lawyer, urged that no action be taken in regard to uniform marriage law, on the ground that it would divide the province of the nation. He pointed out the fact that there is a movement being carried out by the American Bar Association to secure uniform marriage and divorce laws by mutual agreement in the various states.

Dr. Covert's motion was, however, passed by a large majority, with the amendment that the commission secure [illegible] as practicable.

Woman's Board.

By far the most interesting day of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America was held in the Central Congregational church yesterday. Considerable rivalry has come into this meeting by the representatives of the different synodical societies. Up until the present the New York delegation has been the leader, having thirty-seven delegates. The next largest is the delegation from Tennessee with twenty-four delegates, and the delegates from Pennsylvania and Ohio come next, with twenty-one delegates each.

Approximately a half-million dollars has been raised by the women of the Presbyterian church to carry on its various departments of work. The following are some of the items presented in the annual report by the treasurer, Miss Dora Fish, of New York:

Women's Missionary society	$277,338.89
Y. L. societies and bands	29,435.88
Y. P. societies and C. Es	19,646.18
Sabbath schools	32,856.99
Churches	2,676.45
Individuals and Miscellaneous	25,614.89
Total	$387,569.28
Legacies	10,307.88
Interest on permanent funds	6,788.87
Total	$404,666.03
Tuition and receipts from the field	63,780.33
Rents and sales	5,681.99
Total	$474,128.35
Less Y. P. and S. S. transfers to the board of home missions	13,824.15
Total income for the current work of the woman's board for the year ended March 31, 1913	$460,304.20

In addition to the foregoing receipts for current work, the following amounts were received in the treasury of the woman's board:

Emergency fund	$ 2,419.88
Literature sales	8,440.12
Home mission monthly subscriptions	17,851.40
Receipts for freedmen's work	85,336.99
Receipts from organizations for deficit of 1911-12	28,019.80

The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year, the offices of president and secretary to be filled later in the sessions: First vice president, Mrs. D. Everett Waid, of New York; second vice president, Mrs. A. S. Crane, of Elizabeth, N. J., associate secretary, Mrs. M. J. Gildersleeve, of New York; secretary of young people's work, Miss M. Josephine Petrie, Plainfield, N. J.; secretary for children's work, Mrs. Dwight E. Potter, of New York; recording secretary, Mrs. Augustine Sackett; treasurer, Miss Dora M. Fish; editor, Miss Theodora Fish; superintendent of schools, M. C. Allaben, and secretary woman's department Freedman's board, Mrs. Susan L. Storer. A vice president from each of the synods was elected.

All but the synodical societies of Montana and South Dakota are represented in this meeting.

Reforms for Prisoners.

Judge McKenzie Cleland, of Chicago, a commissioner to the United Presbyterian church, addressed the Presbyterian assembly of the U. S. A., in the interest of the reform of our penal service. He is trying to secure action on the part of the three assemblies now in session in Atlanta in appointing a commission that will study and devise means and methods by which the church will take up seriously the securing of reforms in dealing with prisoners.

"There are 110,000 men, women and children now confined in prisons in the United States," he said. "During a year the number confined is 400,000. To care for them is really home missionary work, for they are, for the most part, poor, helpless and ignorant. Many of them are locked up simply because they are poor; that is, if they had money to pay their fines they would not be locked up. Thousands of men are confined in the lock-up from two to two hundred times. There is one woman living within four blocks of my own house in Chicago who has been confined in the House of Correction 176 different times.

"The greatest enemy of the church is not the saloon, great as that is, nor prostitution with all of its evils, but the penal system from the individual policeman that sets up his own court and acts as policeman, lawyer and judge, to the $1,000,000 reformatory, which trains in crime and bestiality. Christ's method in dealing with the sinful woman was to put her upon a probation. He said to her: 'Go, sin no more.'"

The request of Judge Cleland for the appointment of a commission was referred, with favor, to the committee on bills and overtures.

Report of Committee on Evangelism.

In speaking on the subject of evangelism in colleges, the Rev. George G. Mahy made the following startling statement:

"Don't believe the statement that is made in many reports that 80 or 90 per cent of students in our Presbyterian colleges are religious—50 per cent will be nearer the truth."

Dr. Samuel Monford gave a hopeful view of the progress of evangelism in the church. "Some think," he said, "that we are on the verge of a great apostacy, but I believe that we are living in the spirit of the second chapter of Philipians, which says 'Rejoice evermore and in everything give thanks.'"

NEGROES SING TONIGHT AT THE UNION MEETING

"Sweet Low, Sweet Chariot," "Jonah and the Whale" and other negro church melodies will ring from the Atlanta Auditorium tonight when three hundred southern negroes will sing old plantation hymns preceding the union meeting of the Presbyterian assemblies.

Last night at the union meeting Rev. Ralph Atkinson, of Scottsville, leader of the singing, called upon the negroes to stand and sing. Eighteen all told, they rose, and sang one verse of an old Presbyterian church hymn. At the close the audience burst into deafening applause.

"They seem to like you, so we will try it again," Dr. Atkinson said. And twice more the negroes were compelled to sing. Such an impression was made, especially among the delegates from the north, that it was arranged to have three hundred of the best colored singers of Atlanta present tonight. Spellman's seminary, Atlanta university for negroes, and other leading negro institutions, will send their best trained voices for the occasion.

This melody service will commence a little after 7:30, and continue till the meeting opens at 8 o'clock.

William Randolph Hearst Here To Inspect His Atlanta Papers

Mr. and Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, who are in Atlanta on a short visit.

William Randolph Hearst, owner of The Atlanta Georgian and Sunday American, a swell as The New York American and a chain of newspapers reaching from Boston to Los Angeles, arrived in Atlanta Friday afternoon to inspect the plant of his Atlanta papers and observe conditions in general in Atlanta and the south.

Mr. Hearst is accompanied by his wife and Guy Barnham, of Los Angeles. The party is stopping at the Georgian Terrace, and will remain in the city for several days.

Mr. Hearst has just returned from Los Angeles, via Chicago and New York, where he has been on a similar tour of inspection.

In speaking of financial conditions last night, Mr. Hearst said:

"I think that the financial conditions in the United States are good, with the exception, perhaps, as regards the tariff. There seems to me to be too much agitation of the tariff question. It is not to much a matter of whether tariff is up or down, but a question of leaving it either up or down. The constant tampering with the rates lends an element of unstability to many enterprises whose business is more or less directly affected by changes in the rates. It leaves business in the air, and financiers are not sure which way to turn.

"And about prospects in the south? "If I did not think prospects here were good I certainly would not have entered business here. The people, you know, is not altogether a philanthropic enterprise!"

POSITION OF MAYOR ALARMS OPPOSITION

was taken another member of the commission who previously stood with Chief Beavers and Chairman Carlos Mason on all policies of the board, has declared himself against the method of allowing the chief to select subordinates.

The votes against the mayor were Chairman Mason and Commissioner Fain, Smith, McEachern, King and Dozier.

Will Not Break Deadlock.

Chairman Mason says he will not lend his influence to break the deadlock one way or the other.

A special meeting will be called to settle the question. City hall rumors are that the mayor will win out in the end.

The next move in the mayor's fight will be on the fire board.

Every Man Needs A Blue Serge Suit!

If You Don't Live in Atlanta, Order by Mail!

The man who gets SEVERAL Summer Suits, is practically certain to buy ONE of them in BLUE SERGE, and, he who buys only ONE Summer Suit, usually purchases a BLUE SERGE! With these facts in mind, we have had made up an exceptionally large assortment of Men's high-class Blue Serge Suits---and, they are now on view at our store---in all sizes!

Before we had these suits made, we carefully examined the fabrics ---and, therefore, unhesitatingly guarantee the Blue Serge, in any of them, to be strictly FAST COLOR. They are pure wool, of course! The plain 2-Button or 3-Button models are $15, $16.50, $18.50, $20, $25 and $30---and the NORFOLKS are $20 and $25.

Beginning tonight and continuing throughout the summer, this store will close at 9 p. m. on Saturdays.

ON MORMONISM ATTACK IS MADE

Missionary Meet of Presbyterian Women Is Scene of Scathing Attack on Church of Latter-Day Saints.

Three hundred women of the Presbyterian church, United States of America, attending the annual meeting of the board of home missions, heard a scathing attack on Mormonism in an address Friday morning at the Central Congregational church by Mrs. D. F. Deifenderfer, of Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Deifenderfer, who is a field representative of the international council for Christian and Patriotic Service, has traveled all over America making addresses on the subject of Mormonism and its menacing influence on womanhood and American life. She came to Atlanta as a delegate to the annual woman's missionary gathering, and will probably make another address on the subject before leaving the city next week.

"The leaders of our government have dangerously played with this growing serpent until it has gotten a menacing grip on many sections of the country, and the only way for us to save the nation from its advance is to stamp it out by direct federal legislation and constitutional amendment," said Mrs. Deifenderfer. She presents five main reasons why she said Mormonism is a menace to the nation, as follows:

"First, it is destructive of home-life wherever practiced.

"Second, it is debasing to womanhood.

"Third, it casts aside the foundations of Christianity.

"Fourth, it desecrates the Bible by assuming to defend polygamy from its teachings.

"Fifth, the 'new Mormonism' has not discarded polygamy, but only changed its practice to a more damning form."

"Live Without Real Marriage."

In discussing the last of these arguments, Mrs. Deifenderfer declared that while in former years marriage in the temple had been performed between a man and every one of his wives, the more recent practice has grown to discard the temple ceremony and even the assuming of the man's name on the part of the wife—this in order to keep within the state laws directed against polygamy.

"Instead of taking the marriage vows they perform a mere senseless ceremony in a court, which does not even give the woman the right to rear her children with the name of the man she thus 'marries,' and as a result she has no hold over him nor any method of protection for her children. A condition is developing where Mormonism is practiced to an extent that the nation will be forced to recognize by legislation sooner or later."

Among the interesting speakers who addressed the women at the Central Congregational church Friday were Mrs. Robert MacKenzie, of New York; Mrs. L. L. Storer, of Pittsburg; Miss E. Griffith of Bell Institute, N. C., and Mrs. Charles R. Hume, of Oklahoma.

Saturday's session will last from 10 a. m. till 1 p. m. with a number of interesting addresses on the program. One of the features of the morning will be an address on "America as a Source of Christian Influence," by Miss Margaret E. Hodge, president of the Woman's Foreign Missionary board, of Philadelphia.

Alderman Warren is reported to have said that he "thought the board was shirking its duty somewhat and that if the issue were made he would insist that the board elect the men."

Mayor Woodward counts, it is said, on Councilmen W. G. Humphrey and Thomas I. Lynch and Aldermen A. H. Van Dyke and James E. Warren to support him. The mayor's own vote will make five.

The members of the board who are said to be opposed to the mayor are Alderman I. N. Ragsdale, Councilmen George H. Boynton, J. D. Sisson and Pire Chief W. B. Cummings—four.

All appointments, whether made by the heads of the various departments or by the boards, must go to council for ratification. Therefore, council will be the factor in settling the question.

"PRESBYTERIANS ARE UNITED IN PURPOSE"

Editors Attending the General Assemblies Are the Guests of Dr. Thornwell Jacobs.

"We are one—united in spirit and purpose—and whatever our differences in organization may be, we want the assemblies in Atlanta to carry out to the world the message of our oneness of heart."

This was the central thought expressed by nearly two dozen well-known Presbyterians, including editors and representatives of the religious press of all four Presbyterian bodies, gathered at the Capital City club yesterday for a luncheon tendered them by Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, editor of The Westminster Magazine, published in Atlanta.

It was the first time in the history of Presbyterianism that the editors of different assemblies had gathered for a conference together, and their discussion was of deep moment, as it forecasted the editorials and special articles that are to follow the assemblies in Atlanta, when the editors and writers have all returned to their homes to disseminate the news of the gathering among the hosts of Presbyterians they represent.

MacDonald Praises Spirit.

James A. Macdonald, managing editor of The Toronto Globe, who is among the most interesting men and forceful orators Atlanta has ever seen, made a strong, earnest address before the guests assembled around the luncheon table, in which he praised the spirit that prevails over the assemblies in Atlanta.

"You will solve your problem in time," said Mr. Macdonald, "and the splendid spirit that prevails over the Atlanta gathering augurs well for the future of Presbyterianism. We had just such a problem of separate organizations in Canada, and we just gradually grew into a united body, first by becoming closer affiliated in spirit and purpose."

The writers and thinkers assembled at the luncheon, however, were not in favor of organic union of the Presbyterian bodies within the near future, and they advised going very slowly in all talk of union.

Union Not Advocated Now.

"In many ways it is better for us all that we are divided in organization, and there is no need for us to rush swiftly into talk of organic union," said D. S. Kennedy, of The Presbyterian, Philadelphia. Similar views were expressed by many others, who arose and said that all should work for a unity of spirit within the immediate future, and not propose any combining of the great bodies of Presbyterians.

Tribute to Thornwell Jacobs.

Dr. W. P. Jacobs, father of Thornwell Jacobs, sat beside his son and, at the close of the luncheon, made a splendid talk. Others who made interesting speeches, whose pictures are not included in the group published, were David M. Sweets, of The Christian Observer, Louisville; Noland R. Best, The Continent, New York; William T. Ellis, The Continent, Philadelphia; C. W. Welsh, of The New York Tribune, and Oliver R. Williamson, of The Continent, Chicago.

The following resolutions, passed by the editors and writers assembled, paid a distinct tribute to the host of the occasion:

"Resolved, That we express to Dr. Thornwell Jacobs our sincere gratitude for the privilege of this hour of fellowship, and place on record our appreciation him to initiate the movement which led him to imitate the movement which brought the official bodies of four Presbyterian churches together at Atlanta, and we congratulate him on the great success which has been already abundantly manifested."

KILLS WIFE, WOUNDS 2 AND COMMITS SUICIDE

Globe, Ariz., May 16.—After killing his wife, a hospital nurse, and wounding his wife's mother, Mrs. W. J. Webber, and the latter's daughter, Mrs. Winnie Rowe, George Hampton, a miner, placed the muzzle of a shotgun in his mouth today and blew of the top of his head.

New Trial for Hyde.

New York, May 16.—The appellate division of the state supreme court today reversed the conviction in the supreme court of Charles H. Hyde, former city chamberlain, and ordered a new trial. Hyde was found guilty of bribery in connection with the deposit of city funds in the defunct Northern bank and Carnegie Trust company.

STREET MEETINGS BY PRESBYTERIANS

Ministers Are Planning to Reach Men Who Seldom Attend Any of the Churches in the City.

If Mayor Woodward gives his permission today, some of the biggest Presbyterian ministers in America will preach on the streets of Atlanta every day next week.

At a meeting of the subcommittee on evangelism of the Presbyterian assemblies held yesterday, it was decided that this great ecumenical assembly of three great denominations should have a vital influence upon the lives of the men of Atlanta, who rarely ever darken the doors of a church.

This morning Dr. Hugh K. Walker, of this city, will ask formal permission to hold these services every night about 7 o'clock, and if granted, Marietta street, near Five Points, will probably be the place where the largest meetings will be held.

Torrey Will Hold Sections.

Dr. R. E. Torrey, of Philadelphia, son of the famous evangelist, and himself a great leader of men, will be the first man to hold these services, it is said.

They will be held just before the union mass meetings at the Auditorium, and will be of the nature that will appeal tot he men who will not attend churches. Besides Dr. Torrey, other forceful men, leaders in their communities, will be heard.

It is the intention of Dr. Walker and his subcommittee that every man in the city of Atlanta shall hear the gospel preached next week. These services will begin Monday evening.

Another class of men will be reached by mass meetings, which will be held daily, beginning Monday at 12:15 p. m., in the Grand theater, lasting forty-five minutes. These meetings are intended primarily for the business men who will spend their lunch hour there. A number of the big men will address these meetings.

Also a number of the large factories will be visited, and short evangelistic meetings held daily, especially at the noon hour.

Meeting For Men Only.

As the opening gun for this series of evangelistic services, a mass meeting will be held Sunday afternoon in the Auditorium at 3 o'clock, at which a personal appeal will be made to the men to enter the Christian life. This meeting will be for men only, and an urgent invitation is issued to every man in Atlanta to make an effort to be present. This meeting will be held on novel lines, it is said.

President John Willis Baer, of Los Angeles, will make the address of the afternoon. Dr. William Edward Helderwolf, with his national male quartet will lead the singing, assisted by a double quartet.

It is hoped that by this series of meetings every man in the city of Atlanta will be reached with the message of Christianity by the time that the assemblies close.

DR. WILSON SPEAKS AT NORMAL INSTITUTE

The value of industrial education was emphasized by Dr. Warren H. Wilson, head of the department of church and country life of the Presbyterian church of New York city, in an address which he delivered at the annual closing exercises of the Atlanta Normal and Industrial Institute.

Certificates of graduation were awarded to one student from the dressmaking department, two students from the plain sewing department and two from the eighth grade. The enrollment for the past year was 187, representing five southern states.

Additional interest for accommodation of girls and women and for class room work were urged as imperative in an appeal by Rev. Richard D. Stinson, principal, who will soon leave for the north to raise funds for a dormitory. Rev. Dr. P. G. Simmons, presiding elder of the A. M. E. church, led in the invocation and Rector A. D. Day, of the St. Paul Episcopal church, pronounced the benediction.

ATHENS MAN SUFFERS SERIES OF ACCIDENTS

Athens, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—R. L. Patterson, a wholesale business man of this city, is suffering from an accident, which is the third happening to him in succession. He was dismissed by his physician after a compound break of both bones in the wrist from cranking an automobile, and going directly to his place of business to begin his duties after a month's absence, he tripped on a defective step half-way of the outside stairway, fell to the pavement, pulling the steps over on him, and was painfully bruised and cut.

Club Formed at West Point.

West Point, Ga., May 16.—(Special.) At a meeting of thirty-three of West Point's citizens who had organized a club, they decided upon Riverside club as the name, and elected temporary officers and committees to push the work. Application will be made at once for a charter and a lot purchased and plans for a clubhouse approved at an early date. They will build an attractive house.

Boy Scouts Organized.

Lawrenceville, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Colonel John C. Houston has organized a company of boy scouts, it being a branch of the national organization. A number of camping trips are being planned.

Light Contract Let.

Lawrenceville, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—The city council has closed a contract with the North Georgia Power company to furnish current for the city next year. It is estimated that the town will save about $1,400 on its light bill, besides having a day current.

INDIAN PRINCESS TO SPEND SUMMER AT INDIAN SPRING

Jackson, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—A full-blooded Indian woman and her husband are camping for the summer at Indian Spring. She is the Indian princess Neola and perhaps the first full-blooded Indian to camp at the springs since the time of Chief William McIntosh, from whom the spring was purchased by the whites.

Her husband is Chief Eagle Eye and is an Indian in all respects except birth. He is a native of Ohio and was taken by the Indians when only three years old and reared as their own child. He is of Scotch and German parentage.

This interesting and refined couple have two daughters, Hock-See-Ocka and Neola Mae, who are attending school in Augusta, where they spend the winters. The chief has a large and valuable collection of Indian curios, which are on exhibit at the spring.

PRESBYTERIANS TO BE ENTERTAINED AT AGNES SCOTT TODAY

From 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon the Presbyterians of Atlanta will entertain the commissioners in attendance upon the three general assemblies of the Presbyterian church, at a reception upon the campus of Agnes Scott college, at Decatur.

The faculty of Agnes Scott and the 300-odd students of that institution will assist in the entertainment of this gathering.

This reception will be the only social gathering of the three organizations, which are now meeting in Atlanta, which lends added interest to this event. The shaded campus of Agnes Scott, comprising 18 acres, with its rolling lawns and gravel walks, will prove an ideal spot for this great gathering. Music will be furnished by a band and refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

ALBANY'S STREET CARS START GOING AT LAST

Albany, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—With the refractory machinery running smoothly, Albany's new street car system was put in operation this afternoon informally following the official appointment of yesterday, when the big celebration of the event which had been planned had to be called off in spite of the fact that hundreds of visitors had come to the city for the celebration.

This afternoon the first car was driven, and in a little while all the cars were running. There was no schedule and all who cared to ride were carried free, the eresult being that the cars were all crowded.

Regular service will be put on next week, which brings the twenty-fifth annual assembly of the Georgia chautauqua.

CUMBERLAND ASSEMBLY CONVENES IN KENTUCKY

Bowling Green, Ky., May 16.—Missions, their purpose and their scope, formed one of the principal subjects for discussion today when the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church settled down to its work. With the election yesterday afternoon of Dr. J. H. Milholland, of Charleston, Ill., as moderator, the assembly will now give its time to special topics and devotional services.

A feature of the meeting here is the entertainment of the commissioners from the several presbyteries by members of other faiths. Church buildings of various Protestant denominations have been placed at the disposal of the assembly.

FLEET OF SUBMARINES IS ORDERED TO CUBA

Washington, May 16.—For the purpose of conducting experiments in towing submarines and to try out the engines of the little craft under cruising conditions, the navy department today ordered five submarines now at Norfolk to leave for Guantanamo, Cuba, at an early date, to be announced later. The flotilla will stop at some coast port, probably Charleston, S. C. The collier Mars and the tender Castine will be convoys for the voyage.

WILL ATTEMPT TO FLY FROM FLORIDA TO CUBA

Key West, Fla., May 16.—Announcement was made tonight that Aviators Parla and Rosillo will attempt the flight from Key West to Havanna, Cuba, tomorrow morning in competition for the $10,000 prize offered by the city of Havana. Boats which will accompany the airmen throughout their trip put to sea tonight. There is a second prize of $5,000 in the event both men succeed in completing the flight.

DELEGATE ROBBED; REPORTS TO POLICE

Rev. R. H. Fleming, of Baltimore, Md., commissioner of one of the Presbyterian assemblies here, reported yesterday that he had been robbed of $200 in cash, seven Maryland railway permits and a promissory note, Thursday when he returned from the meeting at the Auditorium.

He was stepping on a car, when he was jostled by three men, he declared. He said he did not think of it at the time, but it was probably these who "rolled" him.

Scores "Coffee" Bankers.

Washington, May 16.—The international bankers who furnished the money for the Brazilian coffee valorization scheme were denounced today by Senator Norris during the tariff debate.

He declared they had sought to stand at the door of every home, demanding an unjust tribute from "God's poor."

"In my opinion, a man who has wealth and would do that, has more to answer for than the man who violates man-made law," said the senator.

Negro Escapes Caught.

Lawrenceville, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Bob McNeal and Jeff Griffin, the two negroes who escaped from jail by picking the lock, were captured by Deputy Sheriff Boss several miles above Lawrenceville and again landed behind the bars. They are being held for robbing a house near Suwanee the night

NASHVILLE SELECTED BY SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

Proposed Amendment Allowing Women on Floor as Delegates Goes Over Until Next Year.

St. Louis, May 16.—The Southern Baptist convention chose Nashville, Tenn., as the next place of meeting and fixed May 13, 1914, as the date.

The Rev. Dr. George W. McDaniel, of Richmond, Va., will preach the convention sermon. The Rev. Forest Smith, of Sherman, Texas, was named as alternate.

Nashville was chosen after a contest over the proposition to make Chattanooga the permanent meeting place.

A movement, which has been going on quietly for several years to organize all the Baptists west of the Mississippi river into a separate convention, was met by the introduction of resolutions by President E. Y. Mullins, of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary of Louisville, which were adopted, expressing feelings of fraternity and sympathy for the work being done in the theological seminaries at Fort Worth, Texas, and Liberty, Mo.

For Free Education.

The question of giving free educational advantages to young men who wish to enter the Baptist ministry was brought before the convention by Mr. Mullins. He offered a resolution to call on the various states in the convention for a share of $18,000, the money to go to the school of which he is the head and which is in debt for for students' expenses to that amount. He said he believed that if the Baptists would offer free education to ministerial students three hundred million converts could be won in China alone during the next 25 years. The resolution was adopted.

It was decided by the officers of the convention that the proposed amendment to the constitution allowing women on the floor as delegates would have to go over until next year, as it had not been introduced on the first day's session.

The night session consisted of a symposium of evangelist and missionary fields, in which the mountain schools of the southern states were given a prominent place. The Baptists are paying special attention to the Cumberland and Allegheny mountain regions. Among the speakers were the Rev. F. J. Paes, of Colon, Cuba, and the Rev. J. N. McCall, of Havana, Cuba, who have charge of the Cuban field.

The Women's Missionary union re-elected its officers.

TO STOP PIGEON-HOLING OF MERITORIOUS BILLS

Washington, May 16.—Public record of all proceedings of the various committees of the house was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Smith, of New York. Standing committees would be required to keep an accurate record of all proceedings to be published in the Congressional Record. The resolution was offered to the rules committee.

Representative Smith said his resolution would prevent the pigeon-holing of meritorious bills in secret committee sessions.

MRS. W. T. B. WILSON DIED THIS MORNING

Mrs. W. T. B. Wilson, wife of Captain W. T. B. Wilson, one of the best known and most beloved women of Atlanta, died this morning at 2 o'clock at her residence, 372 North Jackson street, after an illness that lasted for six weeks. She was fifty-seven years old. She is survived by five children, W. T. Wilson, A. C. Wilson, Mrs. A. H. Parham, Mrs. J. T. Wikle and Miss Nell Wilson. The funeral arrangements will be announced today.

HARALSON POSTOFFICE IS LOOTED BY ROBBERS

Senoia, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Robbers entered the store of J. J. Hiller at Haralson Thursday morning and blew open the safe, in which the postoffice funds were deposited. Fortunately, however, the money had been sent to the postoffice department at Washington, and the robbers secured only about $15 and a few valuable papers.

MRS. LONGSTREET WILL ADDRESS U. S. SENATORS

Washington, May 16.—Mrs. Helen D. Longstreet, widow of the noted confederate general and former postmaster at Gainesville, Ga., will have a hearing Monday before the senate postoffice committee. Mrs. Longstreet declares she does not seek reappointment, but wants to make public her version of the circumstances which led to her displacement.

INVESTIGATED SEVERAL COLLEGES AND THEN ENTERED SOUTHERN BUSINESS COLLEGE

Mr. Buford Summers Is Secured a Good Position With a Railroad Company by the Southern Shorthand and Business University.

J. BUFORD SUMMERS.
Who now holds a good position after taking a course in the Southern Shorthand and Business University.

The literary schools and colleges are closing for the summer months, and their pupils and teachers are now are rolling at the famous Southern Shorthand and Business University, to add to their store of knowledge a practical Business Education.

Remember, that the quickest way to obtain a position after leaving the literary schools, is to take the Southern's Course in Shorthand or bookkeeping. No trouble then to secure a good job.

Mr. J. Buford Summers, who has just launched upon a business career, can testify to the above stated fact. While attending the Southern and preparing for a position, he observed the students almost daily going out into nice positions and then his time came around. He had been a faithful student, an energetic worker, and a mighty good fellow, so nothing could keep him from securing a good job. In a letter just received by the Southern from Mr. Summers, he says:

"After investigating several other Business Colleges, I finally decided upon a course in the Southern Shorthand and Business University, and I shall never regret my choice of a school.

"The college has an excellent corps of instructors, and its managers, Messrs. Briscoe and Arnold, obtained me a splendid position after completing my course.

"I shall always look with pleasure upon the time I spent at the S. S. & B. U.

If you want a position, you'll have to take a business course, sooner or later; then, why not now?

Don't postpone longer such an important matter.

"If you have a diploma from the Southern Business University I will give you a position," said a prominent business man to a young fellow applying for a job.

The Southern is an old school—been running 47 years; has a large faculty; teaches the best known systems of shorthand, bookkeeping, etc.

Plenty of typewriters on which to practice—seventy-five; think of it!

Its graduates and present students, and that tells the story of merit.

They keep the school humping.

what better recommendation could be desired?

It looks businesslike at the Southern.

Now is the time to enter the Southern. Call, phone or write at once for catalog.

SLAYERS BY PROXY.

President Wilson has wrought a public service by treading hard upon the toes of one of the cruelest and most dangerous elements in this nation—the slayers by proxy, the jingoes who, recklessly and without conscience, seek habitually to involve the country in trouble by which neither their property nor their own precious necks would be imperiled. He has issued instructions that while diplomatic negotiations are proceeding between this nation and Japan neither army nor navy shall engage in maneuvers that might be even remotely construed as hostile to the latter empire. Heretofore sallow-hued and hysterical journalistic jingoes, and near-statesmen of the same type, have seized upon the slightest routine military activity as a pretext for premature and farcical "declarations of war" and criminal distortions of fact so worded as to appeal to the most unlovely passions of the public mind. Hereafter at least one source of material will be closed to their wanton and destructive instincts.

We are in a fair way to settle amicably our differences with Japan. If war is or ever has been threatened it is due chiefly to irresponsible and incendiary agencies in America, abetted by flannel-mouthed and dense demagogy in California. People who do their own thinking instead of accepting the predigested sort know how desperate is the financial situation of Japan. Her "elder statesmen" realize that whatever might be the temporary advantage of the mikado's navy the result of a war with the United States would place the future of Japan hopelessly in pawn; would enjoin her development for heaven alone knows how many decades. So that even if Japan were disposed to fight, which emphatically she is not, the most rudimentary self-preservation would hold her in check.

The slayers by proxy are fully apprised of these facts, none more so. Yet deliberately they conspire against the peace of two great nations, work feverishly and without conscience to incite prejudice and hold up twin-mirrors in which the ignorant people of this country see a distorted image of an embattled Orient and the people of Japan a frothing and hostile image of America. They taunt the one nation with inferior origin and the other with supineness of spirit. They overlook not the smallest trick in the game, playing cunningly upon every emotion of hatred.

Have these cold-blooded conspirators for strife ever entered one home blasted by war? Do they know the unspeakable anguish they are so blithely sowing? Have they ever seen a stricken field, the dead tumbled about grotesque and horrible in the moonlight, the living groaning with parched lips? Have they ever looked on at a battlefield clinic, the surgeons amputating arms and legs, patching up men who are crippled for life? Have they ever entered the war hospital, witnessed the suffering of the victims stretching over long, long months? Have they ever thought of the terrific cost of life, brought by women into the world with so much agony and peril, that it might be snuffed out by bullet, bayonet and cannon? Have they thought upon the stupendous pension roll, under which this nation already is groaning, and which bars so many other imperative improvements—a pension roll that another war must inevitably and largely increase? Have they dreamed of the havoc they would work upon business, the setback they would give to the prosperity of every man, woman and child in this country?

It appears none of these trifling considerations have entered the minds of the jingoes, slayers by proxy because they would be responsible directly for thousands of deaths while they themselves would never stand upon the firing line, would never endanger their own sacred bodies. It is full time that this country, all countries for that matter, took in hand and abated such inflammatory influences as these.

Wars will come, in spite of all men can do to prevent them; there are times it is right to go to war, times when death and misfortune are not to be reckoned against honor. But the emotions that justify these occasions should not be profaned by the slayers by proxy; the jingo should not be allowed to prostitute the name of "honor" or of "humanity."

Mr. Wilson once said he would "hang high as Haman on the gibbet of public opinion" the men who created panics in this country. Are not the offenses of these men puny by the side of the men who conspire against the lives of hundreds of thousands of men, the happiness of unnumbered women, the prosperity of a whole country?

BRING BURNS HERE.

William J. Burns, the world's greatest detective, should be able to solve the Mary Phagan case, the greatest criminal mystery and the most revolting crime in the history of Atlanta. Public interest, keyed as it has not been in many years, at least feels that supreme appeal should be taken to Mr. Burns in a final effort to fix blame and insure punishment. The Constitution has headed with a subscription of $100 a fund to bring Burns to Atlanta and keep him here as long as there is the slightest chance of connecting clue with perpetrator.

It is useless to rehash the Phagan case. Every person in Atlanta is familiar with its details. Law-abiding sentiment in this city ever demands that crime be expiated. Where it is hideous and repellant, as in this instance, the demand is emphasized.

The Constitution has confidence that if the mystery can be solved at all it can be solved by Burns. His record of detection has yet to show an important failure to its credit. In the unearthing of crime he is virtually a superman. He catches important clues in fields which to ordinary eyes would seem barren. He employs methods that are far beyond the average man. He is a specialist in the detection of crime, in the unraveling of mysteries—probably the greatest practical detective the world has ever seen.

He should by all means be called upon to exhaust his ingenuity upon the Phagan case. It should never be said that wealthy and humane Atlanta let an exasperating crime go unsolved and unpunished when the mere expenditure of money might have insured results. The case is one of community-wide interest, and it is appropriate the contributions to the fund should be community-wide in their source. This paper will gladly receive and acknowledge subscriptions. Interest already manifested is indication that the fund will soon be made large enough to insure the employment of Burns.

WILSON'S BACKBONE.

President Woodrow Wilson has told the newspaper correspondents at Washington that he will accept no compromises on the tariff bill. He declares that it must go through the senate as it left the house, including sugar and wool, without amendment.

The president's utterance may be construed as an informal, but none the less direct, notification to the country. It is especially significant taken in connection with the present tangled situation in the senate. In the upper branch the sugar senators seem disposed to make trouble, and it is not improbable that before many days pass they may enlist the interest of a wool senator or two. Senate democratic leaders are sure that they can eventually muster enough votes to pass the bill practically as it stands. But the public statement of Mr. Wilson, coming at this stage, should be of material assistance in smoothing the way. Opposition that sees it will straightway be published to the country is less likely to emerge from the committee room into the senate.

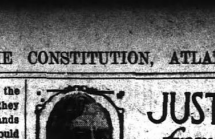
Had presidents previously placed as is Mr. Wilson today developed his backbone, tariff revision would long ago have materialized. Mr. Wilson evidently is determined that if there is any fluke in redeeming the democratic platform, the responsibility shall not rest on his shoulders; and he does not mean there shall be any fluke at all, if fighting and frankness on his part will prevent it.

A BRAVE FLORIDA SENATOR.

The south and the nation should not lose sight of the courageous and statesmanlike course of Senator Bryan, of Florida, with regard to the tariff. Recently he received a red-hot telegram from some of his orange-growing constituents protesting bitterly against the reduction of duties on citrus fruits, contemplated in the new tariff bill. They coolly informed him that he would find a few sugar senators receptive, if he would effect a coalition with them looking to the defeat of the bill.

Senator Bryan forthwith dispatched in return a telegram fully as emphatic as the one he had received. He told his petitioners that his attitude upon the tariff had been fully understood in his primary campaign for election. He further told them, what is more important, that he did not propose to stultify his democracy by voting protection for his own section and revision for the other fellow. If he pursued that line, he said, he would not only be guilty of party treachery, but he would also be indistinguishable from a republican.

The senator's logic is unchallengeable. We hope his constituents will be sufficiently broad-minded to see that if we are to have genuine tariff revision each part of the country, regardless of the party in power, must be prepared to accept its proportionate effect. Any other interpretation would involve the party program in ruin.



The Good Times Song.

I.

When it comes to the Good Times music, just send it soaring high
Till the red stars catch the chorus, and answer from the sky!
May be they'll send it ringin' the other worlds along—
We're wantin' the angels to listen when we're singin' the Good Times song!

II.

When it comes to the Good Times Music, it's then we are in the ring:
It's then that we feel like askin' the world to rise and sing.
O the world is rollin' right then, an' never a note goes wrong
When we all stand up in meetin' an' give out the Good Times song!

The Billville Banner.

If old Ananias himself should come to this settlement he wouldn't hold a candle to the imaginations of our home-fishermen, who, after a week at the river, return to see alligators fighting elephants, and catfish delivering sermons on the tariff. It's wonderful what a few gallons of Georgia moonshine can accomplish when passed around in a crowd of fishermen!

When the Plow Is in the Furrow.

I.

When the plow is in the furrow and the mule is pullin' strong,
Then from afar come echoes of the happy harvest song;
No matter how the world rolls—no matter what be said—
The harvest song's the best song from the fields that give the bread.

II.

When the plow is in the furrow, then visions bright arise
Of golden sheaves a-shining beneath the harvest skies;
And forever and forever the world's steps still are led
By the music of the harvest song to fields that give the bread.

Some Georgia Nuggets.

Keeping the saw in the log won't help any unless you keep it moving.

Folks that sit by the roadside waiting for good times are generally left holding on to the ragged edge of nothing.

The world's business is to keep a-rolling, and it never turns to look at the best of us.

The world's policy is to keep up the fire—even to the limit of burning the last bushel of coal.

Children of the Light.

There are folks that find the light
'Spite o' shadows o' the night;
Ever dreamin' of the day
When the morning's far away;
Ever singin', when a sigh
Whispers: "Sorrow's comin' by!"
Makin' Gloom to know the bright.
They are children of the light.

Short on News.

"There's no news to speak of in our settlement," writes a correspondent of the Adams Enterprise. "I did hear of an airship landing in the top of a pine tree, but I don't rightly know about it, and there was a man run over by a freight train, but I don't know who he was."

His Whistling Tune.

He whistled on the way, and the winds, they caught the tune
And sent its merry music through all the vales of June;
And Tribulation muttered: "No time for me to stay
In the country where the people can whistle on the way!"

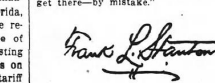
His Conclusion.

Says a Georgia philosopher: "Mighty few folks can keep in the right road and never turn to the left, but sometimes they get there—by mistake."



Up-to-Date.

I sit me down to draw a check,
In truth a work of art,
But can't decide which modern school
Will best my thoughts impart.

I think of money, and at once
A greenback stack I see;
Now that is how it should be drawn—
A cubist I shall be.

But when I ponder on a coin
My resolution swerves;
Perhaps a check should look like eggs
And be composed of curves.

But any check comes back "No Funds"—
This is the woeful gist;
I'll have to wait to make a wad,
I am a futurist.

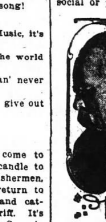
How Blaine Lost Bristow's Support.

By E. J. EDWARDS.

(Copyright, 1913, for The Constitution.)

In the summer of 1876 Benjamin H. Bristow, who had been for two years secretary of the treasury in President Grant's second administration, retired from office so that he might accept profitable openings for the practice of law which had come to him unsolicited from certain wealthy interests in New York city.

General Bristow, who gained not only so large a professional practice that he was unable to take more than an occasional part in social or public occasions, was nevertheless so popular that he usually held quite a levee when taking his luncheon. He was a member of one of the large downtown luncheon clubs. The membership was confined to merchants, bankers and lawyers, and there frequently met upon a common ground of social courtesies men who were of different political parties.



E. J. Edwards.

It sometimes seemed as though General Bristow would not be able to finish his luncheon within the hour which he gave to himself. Men stood around his table chatting with him; he almost always had two or three companions at the luncheon table. He was a conspicuous personality, and was frequently pointed out to strangers who had been invited to take luncheon with members as the man was narrowly missed the presidential nomination at the republican national convention of 1876.

General Bristow was a man of fine personal appearance. He was of a sturdy frame; his head was of superb proportions and rested naturally and easily upon his shoulders. He was erect either sitting or standing, and his step was like that of a trained soldier, a much more military step than was that of General Sherman, who frequently lunched at this club.

I was taking luncheon at this club one day with William R. Grace, who was twice mayor of New York, and who organized the greatest mercantile lines of steam between the United States and South America in the early nineties.

"I never take luncheon at this club," said Mayor Grace, "without being impressed with the attention which is paid to General Bristow. Just look now at the table yonder at which he is sitting. There are two or three men who stand talking with him, and their manner betrays their respect and admiration for him."

"I was told in Washington a few years ago that but for a queer accident, Bristow in all probability would have thrown his support for the presidential nomination in 1876 to Blaine, instead of Governor Hayes. It was almost certain for a week or ten days before the convention met at Cincinnati that Blaine would be the leading candidate and would be nominated unless a successful combination against him would be made.

"A good many people thought General Bristow would make an excellent candidate. He had gained the reputation of being a stanch reformer. He directed the prosecution of the whisky ring, although that prosecution involved some leading republican politicians. He had the warm support of the so-called reform element in the republican party, and it was thought he would be supported by almost ninety delegates.

"You will remember that on the Sunday before the convention met Blaine was prostrated by a sunstroke as he was entering the church in which he worshipped in Washington. The next day one of Bristow's friends suggested to him that he call upon Mr. Blaine to inquire about him and to express his sympathy.

"Bristow hesitated, but he was at last persuaded to make the call.

"Something occurred at the house which grievously humiliated and mortified General Bristow. I have heard that he was personally abused by somebody in Blaine's house.

"He returned to the treasury department more in sorrow than in anger, expecting to make no mention of the occurrence. But his friend, who was present and who was himself greatly disturbed by the incident, sent word to Kentucky, Bristow's home. The story was passed around among Bristow's friends, and they were so indignant that they decided that they would throw Bristow's strength, if it were necessary, to any candidate who could beat Blaine's nomination if he had the Bristow strength.

"Very high political authority told me," said Mayor Grace, "that this was done. Bristow's strength went to Governor Hayes at the proper moment, while in all probability it would have been cast for Blaine but for the unfortunate occurrence at Washington. I have been told," said Mayor Grace, "that Bristow himself never alluded to the incident."

THE FIGHT.

By Philip Weltner, Secretary Prison Association of Georgia.

We believe that if the state takes custody of an individual as his keeper, it thereby becomes chargeable with all the duties of guardianship. If the state presumes to deprive one of its citizens of liberty, it may do this only for the purpose of working out that citizen's ultimate good. A state that incarcerates a human being, and selfishly drives him to the task of making roads, without a single thought for the remaking of the man, is guilty of as criminal a course of conduct as criminal money exploiting the humble breadwinner.

We charge that Georgia's penal system is immoral, because it gives no thought to the future welfare of the convict.

We charge that Georgia's penal system is extravagant, because the state, in delegating to the counties the duty of employing the convicts at building roads, is suffering a useless expenditure of public money without receiving adequate returns.

We charge that very little actual authority is vested in the prison commission; that their powers of supervision are intangible, because the local county authorities in controlling the purse control the policy of each individual camp.

We are attacking a system, and not the individuals implicated in its management. The system makes individual cases of abuse inevitable. The law furnishes no other incentive to the convict but the fear of the lash. The law, therefore, makes of its camp captains task-masters and slave-drivers. The wonder is that more of them have not succumbed to the weakness of tyrants in exercising the powers of despotism.

We charge that Georgia's penal system does not protect society, because the universal testimony of the unprejudiced is to the effect that the convicts come away the worse for their experience, with a distaste for honest labor, and their evil tendencies more accentuated.

Those are the faults of the system. The remedies are more simple than some would suppose. These will be taken up in a separate installment. Suffice it to say, many men are coming to conclusions identical with this article. The statements are based on everyday observation, the ready admissions of those in authority, and the dictates of common justice.

The World's Mysteries

WHERE IS ROBERT EMMET BURIED?

Robert Emmet is Ireland's greatest patriot. He expresses to the Irish everything that is good and noble, and to them his name will live as long as history because of his efforts in behalf of their country. The most unfortunate part of it all is that his nation knows not today where "rests his head upon the lap of earth." If they knew, what a great memorial they would erect to his memory, and with what reverence would this resting place be guarded.

It is considerably more than a century since Emmet was put to death, and since that time historians, patriots and many others have tried to find the place where his body lies. According to D. J. O'Donoghue, "the body was claimed by Dr. Gumble and interred with great secrecy in Dublin; but where, has always remained, and will probably continue to remain, a mystery."

Emmet's brother-in-law believed the body was buried in St. Michan's church, and he said he had held a conversation with the man who interred it there and who said a large uninscribed stone was erected over the grave. But there is no entry to that effect in the church register. There have been several other suggestions as to the place of burial. One historian says Emmet was buried in the Protestant churchyard of Glasnevin; and another, a relative, asserts the remains were placed in the family vault in St. Peter's. The Kilmainham jailer, where the patriot was put to death, reported that Emmet was buried in "Bully's Acre," where paupers and hanged criminals were usually laid. His friend, Dr. Gamble, is said to have exhumed the body from there and to have carried it to some unknown spot, but "where it was removed to," writes Dr. R. R. Madden, "no positive information is to be obtained."

It seems almost incredible that the body of the Irish national hero could have been so mysteriously spirited away, at a period as late as his death, September 20, 1803, with no clew having been left as to where and by whom.

It was the revolution of July, 1803, in which Emmet engaged that brought his life to such an unhappy end. Born in Dublin, on March 4, 1778, of an excellent family, from boyhood he showed every promise of a brilliant future. While still at college he became enthusiastic over the "United Irishmen" movement and an earnest worker for his oppressed country's freedom. For this reason he was expelled from college and he spent two years on the continent.

Returning home secretly, he entered heart and soul into the plan for a general Irish revolution. On July 23, 1803, he and his colleagues attempted to seize the arsenal and castle of Dublin. When this revolution failed Emmet was compelled to flee to the Wicklow mountains, where he bided his time until he could cross safely to France.

Finally the opportunity offered, but his love was too strong to allow him to go without a farewell visit to his sweetheart, Sarah Curran. He knew the danger of an appearance in Dublin, but he took the chance. His arrest came the moment he reached the city. He was tried for his life on a charge of high treason against the British government and was condemned to die. His fiery speech at the court when asked if he knew of any reason why sentence should not be passed upon him is familiar to every school boy, and closed with the following dramatic lines:

"I have but one request to ask at my departure from this world; it is the charity of its silence. Let no man write my epitaph; for, as no one who knows my motives dares now vindicate them, let not prejudice or ignorance asperse them. Let them and me repose in obscurity and peace and my tomb remain uninscribed until other times and other men can do justice to my character. When my country shall take her place among the nations of the earth—then, and not till then—let my epitaph be written."

He has had his wish fully gratified that his remains should "repose in obscurity and peace," for no one knows where they are if he desired to molest them in any way; and "my tomb remain uninscribed," for how gladly would the admiring countrymen rear a shaft over it and lay upon it the laurel wreath of love if it could be identified.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON
The Famous Prose Poet.

HARD LUCK OF POETS

"What book are you reading?" inquired the low-browed man. "The poetical works of William Collins," replied the professor. "He was a great man. He left few poems, but they are gems. Nothing could be finer than some of his odes. He was a most unfortunate man. His life was one of misery, and he died insane. Many great poets had a similar melancholy fate. Southey sunk into an intellectual stupor before he died. Lee passed much of his time in bedlam. William Cowper was at times insane. Dean Swift died an imbecile. The list is long and harrowing."

"It's too bad to see great men die with bob-o-links in their cupolas," said the low-browed man, sympathetically, "but the surprising thing is that poets ever retain possession of their faculties. They have a great deal to contend with. I used to live at the same boarding house with a poet, and that man had more varieties of trouble than you could keep cases on with an adding machine. He had the room right across the hall from mine, and he was always biting pieces out of the furniture. I used to hear him groaning and gnashing his teeth, and I'd go to his room to offer him some of my colic medicine, but he always said his sufferings were mental, rather than physical. All the printers, and proofreaders in the country, he said, had formed a conspiracy to undermine his reputation. They were always putting into his poems words that he never wrote, and taking out words that ought to be there. Sometimes, when he saw one of his poems in a magazine, it took four or five men to hold him, for the magazine editors used to lacerate his poems beyond recognition. I couldn't see that it made any difference, but it fairly broke that young man's heart.

"But that was only one kind of trouble he labored under. He had the idea that everybody was stealing his gems of thought. If he read a poem by another writer he'd rip around in the most shocking way, saying that the poet had swiped whole lines from his own works, and he thought that everybody in the boarding house ought to get excited with him and go down and wreck the police station. None of us could see any good reason why poets shouldn't steal from each other, since nobody reads their stuff but themselves. It's all a family affair, and they should just carry off whatever isn't nailed down, and make no fuss about it.

"At first the ladies and gents in the boarding house had a sort of sneaking pity for him, but he soon wore that out. He always had a bushel or two of manuscripts concealed about his person, and he'd flash them just as though they were deadly weapons. You couldn't mention a wedding, or a funeral, or an elopement, but he had a poem to fit the occasion. He had a squeaky voice, as though his larynx needed greasing, and it set our teeth on edge to hear him read. We stood it for a while, just because we felt sorry for him, but finally we began rebuking him in unmistakable terms. Sometimes we pelted him with egg shells and at other times we set fire to his manuscript while he was reading it, and he awoke from his rapture to find that he was holding a holocaust in his hands. There's nothing more aggravating than to have people read their own poetry to you, especially if they butt in when you're playing a quiet game with gentlemen friends.

"I knew that poet for a long time and never saw him when he wasn't bent beneath a load of grief. If he climbed a long stairway to see an editor or publisher he was pretty sure to come down on his shoulder blades with a shower of manuscript following him. His credit was so poor that if he didn't pay for his board in advance by a certain hour on Saturday evening, the landlady fired his trunk out of the house, and when he came home he had to hustle around borrowing money to square things. And the worst of it was that people were always asking him why he didn't quit his foolishness and do something useful. He ought to get a job as clerk in a grocery store, they said. This sort of advice made him so mad that he yelled like the last of the Mohicans. He finally went bughouse, and I never knew anybody who had a shorter trip to reach his destination. So it doesn't surprise me that insanity seems to be a sort of fad with poets."

Ponderous Personages

SAMSON

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

(Copyright, 1912, for The Constitution.)

Samson, the strongest man in history, was born in the tribe of Dan so long ago that the reporting facilities in his time were very crude and uncertain. He was destined from birth to break all the strength test records in his tribe and grew up from babyhood without punishment. At an early age he married a daughter of the Philistines. Little is known of their domestic career except that soon afterwards Samson went out and killed thirty Philistines single-handed, though they were not even remotely related to his wife.

This caused great indignation among the Philistines and it was voted to kill Samson. Just for this Samson caught 300 foxes, tied them together by the tails with firebrands between and set them loose in the Philistines' wheat fields. To punish him, his own people turned him over to the Philistines. However, he slew 1,000 of them with the jawbone of an ass, which remained an international record until people began making speeches publicly against child labor and pure food and drug laws.

By this time Samson had become such a pest to the Philistines that they let him severely alone and took smallpox whenever they could to discourage him from associating with them. Samson served as one of the Judges of Israel for twenty years, never indulging in a hair cut and becoming stronger all the time. When they shut the gates of Gaza on him and prepared to exterminate him, he took the gates off their hinges and carried them twenty miles—the earliest instance of Hallowe'en pranks on record.

About this time Samson met with Delilah, a beautiful daughter of Philistine, and a love affair ensued which caused a great deal of remark. Delilah loved Samson, but objected to his appreciation of his gems of thought. She would put him on a human mattress, and one night she sheared his hair off. Then she called in her relatives to admire him and when Samson arose to knock their heads together he found that his strength had departed with his hair.

After this the Philistines took Samson and put out his eyes, harnessed him up to a corn mill and treated him like a democratic majority comforting the republican party. Samson was a slave for many years and in time his captors carelessly economized by denying him a barber. Finally they led him out to make fun at him at their national convention and Samson, who was now quite shaggy, pulled the great pillars of the hall out from under the roof and died happily amid the general ruin.

The moral of Samson's life has been written often, but the sad lack of such a man with such a forearm development is every day evident in this country. If Samson could pull up a few tracks in front of the street cars which try to run past him and could arrange to have himself assaulted by a few wrecking gangs in a New York municipal election, the results would be a great blessing to the country.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR U. P. MINISTERS

United Presbyterians Pay Tributes to Thirty-Two Pastors Who Died in Service.

A memorial service in honor of the United Presbyterian ministers who passed away during the past year was held yesterday afternoon in the Central Presbyterian church by the United assembly.

Rev. Dr. J. D. Work presided over the meeting and called the roll of those who had gone to rest. Rev. John A. Henderson, D. D., of Sugar Creek, Ohio, delivered the memorial address.

"It is the work of God which these men did," he said, "labor goes before birth. No one knows better the joy of watching a soul becoming born again than the minister.

"But before such can happen there precedes the labor, which is quickly forgotten as the joy of soul-saving and soul-bringing enters his heart.

"They rest—they have reached their reward, which is rest. But our duty lies before us. Thirty-two ministers have fallen out of the ranks in the past year. Only half that number have entered it. We must pray that more will be sent out into the fields which are white with the harvest."

Following are the names of those who died in the service of the United Presbyterian ministry in the years 1912-13:

James R. Frazier, September 28, Brookville, 82.

James W. Buchanan, May 6, 1912, northern Indiana, 83.

Nathan H. Brown, D. D., October 28, 1912, Monmouth, 78.

John T. Caldwell, August 3, 1912, Mansfield, 59.

William T. Campbell, D. D., April 10, 1912, Monmouth, 67.

John M. Dight, August 2, 1912, Butler, 69.

James R. Frahler, September 28, 1912, Delaware, 58.

David Forsythe, April 20, 1912, College Springs, 83.

Robert Getty, D. D., November 27, 1912, Philadelphia, 58.

Elmer F. Gillis, July 16, 1912, Rock Island, 45.

James Given, April 16, 1912, Conemaugh, 89.

Henry Q. Graham, November 26, 1912, Conemaugh, 58.

William J. Graham, October 16 1912, Muskingum, 58.

Andrew Henry, D. D., February 18, 1913, New York, 67.

Jesse M. Jamieson, D. D., December 28, 1912, Steubenville, 81.

David M. McClellan, D. D., March 6, 1913, Albany, 74.

W. A. McClymonds, July 22, 1912, Monongahela, 49.

William A. MacKenzie, D. D., February 1, 1912, New York, 77.

Matthew F. McKirahan, February 10, 1913, Kansas City, 66.

Moses M. Marling, November 17, 1912, Wheeling, 77.

Alexander Mayn, August 18, 1912, Indiana, 82.

J. S. T. Milligan, D. D., August 12, 1912, Allegheny, 86.

R. H. Mulholland, October 6, 1912, Monongahela.

Richard M. Patterson, October 22, 1912, Brookville, 80.

Joseph L. Pinkerton, August 12, 1912, Arkansas Valley, 79.

James Price, April 7, 1912, Philadelphia, 85.

James V. Pringle, August 30, 1912, College Springs, 67.

John A. Reynolds, August 4, 1912, Spokane, 76.

James D. Sands, D. D., January 28, 1912, Monongahela, 69.

Samuel S. Thompson, May 13, 1912, College Springs, 84.

Robert D. Williamson, May 16, 1912, Albany, 79.

Tedrus Yusuf, June 12, 1912, Assuit.

No Free Organ Concert.

It has been found necessary to abandon the idea of having a music festival chorus concert Saturday evening for the Presbyterian delegates. It was originally expected by the Music Festival association to hold the concert at the customary hour, from 8 or 8:30 to 10 o'clock. It was found that the only time left open was from about 7:30 to 8 o'clock, and it was impossible to get the chorus together for that time.

There will not be any free organ concert Sunday afternoon.

An Invitation To Visitors

While in Atlanta you should certainly call and inspect our Art Department as well as our model jewelry store.

In these two stores you will find the displays well worth a half-hour of your time. Our collection of Marble and Bronze statuary will prove interesting. There there are the Hall Clocks, Miniatures, Cabinets, Pottery, Tapestries, Paintings on Ivory and Porcelain, Ivory Carvings, Bric-a-Brac and the Fine China, illustrating the various styles and periods of Ceramic Art and Decoration.

Souvenirs and Gift Goods

You will doubtless want a number of remembrances and souvenirs before leaving Atlanta.

We are headquarters for gift goods and souvenirs in Gold, Sterling Silver, etc. If your present comes from our store your friends will be doubly pleased, for they will know you wanted them to have the best.

A handsomely illustrated catalogue and diamond booklet will be given complimentary to anyone who will call or write for them.

Visitors incur no obligation to purchase. We have a corps of well-informed assistants, whose duty and pleasure it is to show visitors through and answer questions.

We shall be glad to have you come at any time.

NATIONAL CONFERENCE OF PLANNERS INVITED

Atlanta Has Fine Chance to Secure One of Country's Most Important Conventions.

It is quite probable the next meeting of the National Conference of City Planning will be held in Atlanta. These conferences are attended by about 300 delegates from the leading cities of the United States and Canada, composed of a personnel of the highest rank. More than ten cities have delivered formal invitations for the next gathering, among them being New York, St. Louis, Toronto, Detroit, Philadelphia, Louisville and Memphis.

Charles J. Haden, bearing credentials from Governor Brown, Mayor Woodward, the Atlanta chamber of commerce and the Atlanta Convention bureau, delivered a formal invitation to the conference to hold its next meeting here. All invitations were referred to the executive committee, which will take the subject up in a few weeks. Atlanta will be heard again at the meeting of that committee.

Mr. Haden in delivering his invitation said in part:

"Atlanta is about 1,100 feet above the sea level—the greatest altitude of any city east of the Rocky mountains, giving an average temperature corresponding to southern Ohio. You will find our climate ideal at your meeting time, in May. We have as many skyscrapers as Cincinnati and my faith in our city and the strength of home money we have maintained our city real estate values on a parity with St. Louis and Cleveland.

"We do the third largest insurance business in the United States, being only excelled by New York and Chicago. We have doubled our population in twelve years. There were only six inland cities which stood the test of heavy guarantees demanded by the Metropolitan Opera company. Among these was Atlanta. Our box receipts exceeded any one of the other two cities. Caruso said that Atlanta furnished the largest audience and the biggest box office receipts to which he had ever sung.

"It is the metropolis of that cotton south, whose chief product brings from across the seas nearly $400,000,000 of foreign gold, keeping the balance of trade in favor of America.

"You gentlemen are experts in the rating of cities, and upon any basis of measurement which you may name, Atlanta challenges to a 'show-down' any city not more than double its population on earth. And this out of the ashes of the civil war, within barely more than forty years. We know the stimulus which your meeting would bring to our city and we extend to you a hand as glad as the morning song of the birds and a welcome as warm as our southern sunshine."

FIRST CHRISTIAN BUSY.

Sunday School Working Hard to Keep World Title.

The First Christian Bible school are expecting to have an immense audience at Bible school Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock. The interest which helped win for this school the honor of being the largest Bible school in the world on May 4, has not abated, and the famous "Flying Squadron" is still at work in the by-ways and hedges.

This school is preparing for a unique day, instituted by themselves and which will be on May 25, and is known as "Flower day." Every scholar will bring a bouquet of flowers, which will afterwards be distributed to hospitals, penal and charitable institutions over the city. It is expected that at least three thousand will assemble in the First Christian church that morining.

One of the features of the institutional work of the First Christian was the "May Feast day," held on Friday. For dinner and supper in the hospitable dining rooms of the church, hundreds of Atlantans gathered during the day and evening, including a large number of business men. The cooking, which was done in the church kitchen under the direction of the ladies of the church, was pronounced a perfection of the art.

RAIN ALL OVER STATE, BUT NOT IN ATLANTA

In and Around This City There Has Only Been .04 Inch in Twenty Days.

Showers are again on the program today and a rain that will lay the dust and freshen up gardens and flower beds is due to fall. The same prediction was made for Friday, and by a curious coincidence, practically every weather station in the state reported some rainfall except the Atlanta station.

In and around Atlanta there was only been .04 inch of rainfall within the past 20 days. The record drouth for the springtime is 20 days without a drop of rain. This was in May, 1879, shortly after the local weather bureau was established. The longest drouth ever known locally in 34 years of weather history was 39 days long in September and October, 1884.

Temperatures for the present week have been about normal for this time or year. On Friday the mercury climbed to 82 degrees shortly after the noon hour, and it is due to go to 80 degrees today.

MANAGER OF HOTEL MAKES APPEARANCE IN BUTLER'S ROLE

Hundreds who have seen striding across the hotel lobby the military figure of R. Frank Taylor, resident manager of the Piedmont, will have the chance of seeing him in the servile countenance of an English fashionable butler, at the coming Players' club production of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest."

At the rehearsal Friday night on the stage of the Grand, Warren A. Rogers, dramatic director of the Players' club, declared that Mr. Taylor is going to be one of the hits of the performance in his interpretation of the butler's rloe. It will be his first appearance in the cast of the Player's club.

While the date of the production is yet indefinite, on account of tentative engagements of moving picture at the Grand, the play will be produced within the next two weeks, the date probably being announced in a day or two.

ASSOCIATE REFORM CONFERENCE TODAY

The first conference of the Associated Reform Presbyterian church to be held during this assembly will begin at the Associated Reformed Presbyterian church, corner Whitehall street and Whitehall terrace, this morning at 11 o'clock. The event of this morning will be the address of Dr. J. G. Kennedy, of Charlotte, N. C. Other conferences will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The meeting Monday will be devoted to missions; Tuesday to church finance, and Wednesday to Sunday schools. A number of able addresses by leaders of the church will be delivered at these conferences.

WILL DELIVER ADDRESS TO PALMETTO SCHOOL

Ralph O. Cochran, candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Hoke Smith in 1914, has accepted an invitation from J. H. Page, principal, to deliver the commencement address at the Palmetto public school Friday, May 23.

The Palmetto public school is one of the largest schools in Campbell county. Mr. Cochran's address will be along educational lines. Palmetto is Mr. Cochran's home town.

BOSTON WILL WELCOME OLD GUARD OF ATLANTA

Elaborate Preparations Are Being Made for the Entertainment of the Visitors.

Information has been received from Boston indicating that the ceremonies incident to the visit of the Old Guard of the Gate City Guard in that city constitute the most elaborate honors ever shown a southern military organization by a northern city.

Colonel J. F. Burke, in command of the Old Guard, has received letters stating that the hosts in Boston, the Kinsley post and the Ancient and Honorables, are making great preparations for the entertainment of the southerners, including a big banquet at the American house, with Sam J. Elder, Sam L. Powers and ex-Commander Morse, of the Ancients, among the speakers.

It is stated that the Boston newspapers are already calling eloquent attention to the significance of the visit and are expressing gratification that Colonel Burke, who arranged the original peace commission in 1879, will return this year in command of the Old Guard.

Colonel Burke has sent to Boston, at their request, some old war time photographs, showing himself and other veterans as they appeared in the sixties.

One of the pictures shows Colonel Burke in command of the Charleston Zouave Cadets, the command which took care of the federal prisoners in the casements of Castle Pinckney in Charleston harbor in 1861.

All preparations have been completed for the departure of the Old Guard from Atlanta Monday morning. Between fifty and sixty members will make the trip. They will assemble at the Piedmont hotel at 9:30 o'clock and will march to the Terminal station with military escort, where a special train will be waiting to take them to Washington.

Jackson School Exercises.

Jackson, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Jackson high school graduating exercises will be held in the auditorium Friday evening, May 23. There will be thirteen graduates.

INDIGENT MINISTERS WILL GET MORE HELP

United Presbyterians Plan to Prevent Necessity of Asking Public for Support.

In order that the aged and infirm ministers of the United Presbyterian church may not have to ask the public for support, the general assembly of this denomination at its meeting Friday morning in the Central Congregational church, voted to increase the appropriations for ministerial relief from 1¼ to 2 per cent.

A special committee will be appointed to make the indigent ministers feel that they are not objects of charity, and it was suggested that some other term than "relief" be used in such cases.

Steps will be taken to increase the salaries of the ministers, although whether any immediate action will be taken has not yet been decided. All ministers coming from other Presbyterian denominations will be placed upon the beneficiary list immediately, instead of having to wait the former five years.

The assembly placed its unofficial approval on a plan for union of churches so that work along similar lines can be carried out without any immediate organic union.

On recommendation of the committee on ministerial relief it was decided to place ministers who come from the other Presbyterian denominations upon the beneficial list on the same terms as the United Presbyterian ministers.

Reports of various committees were heard during the day, among them being the report of the committee on young people's work.

Jackson Revival Closes.

Jackson, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Successful revival meetings have just closed here at the Methodist church. The pastor, Rev. M. S. Williams, was assisted by Rev. S. E. Warson, of Barnesville. Dr. Robert VanDeventer, pastor of the First Baptist church, of this place, is spending the summer abroad and Dr. James Bradley, of the Presbyterian church, is in Atlanta in attendance upon the general assembly of the United Presbyterian church which is in session there.

TWO NEWS ITEMS

INDIVIDUAL TRUSTEE DISSIPATES ESTATE

Georgia newspapers the other day gave an account of the dissipation of an estate which left a young lady penniless. The father, who had a comfortable business in a Georgia city, died several years ago, leaving his only child, a daughter, an estate of $35,000. A man, a friend of the family, who was then considered honest and capable, was appointed trustee for the daughter's property. On coming of age she called upon him for an accounting and delivery of her inheritance and HE IMMEDIATELY DISAPPEARED. He is still among the "missing," and THE YOUNG LADY'S INHERITANCE IS GONE.

TRUST COMPANY OF GA. DOUBLES THIS ESTATE

The other news item, not heretofore published, relates to an Atlanta lady who died, leaving an only child, a son of ten years. SHE HAD WISELY MADE A WILL IN WHICH THE TRUST COMPANY OF GEORGIA was appointed EXECUTOR and GUARDIAN of the property of her son. From his inheritance, which was officially appraised at $16,500, the boy was supported comfortably and given a college education. When he reached his majority, less than a month ago, the TRUST COMPANY OF GEORGIA, his Guardian, turned over to him property appraised at $31,34b, thus, with his maintenance, more than doubling the estate.

Joseph Habersham Chapter.

The Joseph Habersham chapter held a very interesting meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of the regent, Mrs. John A. Perdue, in Inman Park.

Following the routine business the annual reports of the officers and committees were given. The chapter has had an unusually successful year as shown by these reports.

The nominating committee composed of the following ladies: Chairman, Mrs. A. P. Coles, Mrs. William L. Peel, Mrs. Robert Zahner, Mrs. A. R. Colcord, Mrs. Spencer Atkinson, Mrs. William L. Percy and Mrs. Henry Collier, presented the following names:

Regent, Mrs. John A. Perdue, first vice regent, Mrs. A. P. Coles; second vice regent, Mrs. P. H. Mell; third vice regent, Mrs. George Howard; recording secretary, Mrs. Albert Harrell; corresponding secretary, Miss Alice M. Mastergale; treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Ashford; registrar, Mrs. George Stevens; assistant registrars, Mrs. Albert Akers and Miss Helen Prescott; historian, regent for life, Mrs. W. L. Peel; historian, Mrs. William L. Percy; auditor, Mrs. W. F. Dykes.

These officers were unanimously elected, and a rising vote of thanks was given the efficient regent, Mrs. J. A. Perdue, for the splendid work she has done the past year for the chapter. An informal reception followed the presentation of the new officers.

Foote-Slote.

Mr. Jeff J. Foote announces the marriage of his daughter, Juliette, to Mr. R. Slote, May 11, 1913, at the residence of her grandmother, Mrs. R. Nelson, New York city.

Mrs. Hyde Entertains.

Mrs. William Hyde entertained at a pretty bridge party yesterday afternoon in compliment to Mrs. Harry Burt Wheeler, of Birmingham, the guest of Miss Hennie Franklin.

Wild flowers and ferns attractively decorated the rooms. The prize was a top store was a sandwich tray and the guest of honor was given a hanging vase. Invited to meet Mrs. Wheeler were Miss Franklin, Miss Isabel Wilson, Miss Ethel Wilson, Mrs. H. Fields Saunenig, Mrs. T. C. Hanway, Mrs. W. B. Richardson and Miss Alice Green.

Dance at Country Club.

The regular week-end dance will be given at the East Lake club house tonight. These dances continue to be very popular, and it is expected that quite a large number of club members will be present.

Afternoon Tea for Visitors.

Mrs. Willis B. Parks and Miss Aline Parks have issued invitations for a tea next Tuesday afternoon, the 20th, at their home on Forrest avenue in compliment to Mrs. J. F. John, of North Carolina, and Miss Louise Dowmer, of Hopkinsville, Ky., who are their guests.

Mrs. Ransom's Bridge Party.

Mrs. Ronald Ransom's informal bridge party was an enjoyable occasion of yesterday afternoon in compliment to Miss Ruth Wilson, of New York, the guest of Miss Helen Dargan. Mrs. Ransom's attractive home on Juniper street was decorated with bowls of sweet peas.

The prize at each table was a recent novel, and the guest of honor was given small gold hat pins.

Dainty refreshments were served at 5 o'clock, and there were twelve guests.

Madam Plevsner to Lecture.

The Council of Jewish Women has arranged an interesting program for Peace day, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the Jewish Educational Alliance. Madam Plevsner, of Jaffa, Palestine, will give an address. The public is cordially invited.

Club Entertained.

Mrs. LeRoy Webb entertained her bridge club Tuesday afternoon at her home on Gordon street.

The house was attractively decorated with wild flowers and the club prize, a white and gold china plate, was won by Mrs. Jack Salmon.

Mrs. Cantrell's Reception.

Mrs. William Eugene Cantrell entertained at a delightful reception yesterday at her home on Gordon street in compliment to her niece, Mrs. J. Doris McClure, a recent bride.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, roses and sweet peas.

Pink roses in profusion were used in the drawing room, where the guests were received by Mrs. Cantrell and Mrs. McClure, assisted by Mrs. Z. P. Buttrill, Mrs. George Law, Mrs. Zebulin Walker, Mrs. Ralph Byers, Mrs. W. L. Lewis, Mrs. George Price and Mrs. William Arnold.

Misses of pink sweet peas were artistically used in the dining room.

The centerpiece of the table was a plateau of sweet peas, shading from light to dark pink, and the edge of the plateau was outlined with asparagus fern.

The candle shades were pink, as were other details of the pretty table. Miss Marguerite Cantrell and Miss Helen Goldthly poured tea in the dining room, and frozen punch was served in the library by Miss Hettie Buttrell. Miss Eda Cole and Miss Frances Goulding.

The punch table was wreathed in smilax and red roses.

Assisting in entertaining were Miss Lois Vernon, Miss Willie Ruth Pittman, Miss Maurice Purtell and Miss Sarah Smith.

Mrs. Cantrell was gowned in white lace over pink satin, and Mrs. McClure wore her wedding gown of white satin charmeuse. There were about one hundred callers during the afternoon.

To Mr. and Mrs. Brandon.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Brandon were the guests of honor at a beautiful dinner last night at the Piedmont Driving club, the hosts the members of the Pace's Ferry dancing class. MRS. WILSON REQUESTED TO DRAW SUNSHINE COIN

New York, May 16.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president, has been asked by the International Sunshine society, which is holding its fifteenth annual convention here, to design a special coin, the proceeds from which should go to help support and educate all of the blind babies in the United States. The idea originated with Queen Alexandra and her sister, Empress Marie, who designed a baby coin for children in Denmark. The bit of copper which is worth intrinsically only half a cent is coined at the royal mint.

Delegates from nearly every state of the union are present at the convention. The report of Mrs. Cynthia Westover Alden, president of the society, points out that seven states have passed laws providing for the care and education of the baby blind. These are Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, North and South Dakota, Arizona and Rhode Island.

Party at White House.

Washington, May 16.—President and Mrs. Wilson entertained today on the south lawn of the white house members of congress and official folk generally. It was the second of the three garden parties given during the spring.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.
I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home with out the help of advctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from our nieces, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for: Leucorrhea or Whites, Displacements, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Ulcers or Sores on Womb or Genitals, pain in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, sensitive bladder, and bladder troubles often caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a sample bo tle of my home treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that, it will cost me nothing to give the trial, sent a complete trial; and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all of them. In Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness and Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Plumpness and health always results from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address

PROPHECY OF UNION CALLED INEVITABLE

Message Carried by Dr. T. V. Moore From Northern to Southern Church.

Organic union of the Presbyterian churches was prophecied as inevitable when Dr. T. V. Moore, of San Francisco, of the northern church, carried greetings to the southern Presbyterian assembly yesterday. Wild enthusiasm greeted his remarks, and members of the southern assembly vied with one another in their endorsement of the overture, which drew forth an eloquent response from Dr. J. S. Lyons, the newly elected moderator who presided over the deliberations of the southern assembly. Dr. Lyons said in part:

"We desire and expect ever increasing and closer fellowship. Our history comes from common sources, our traditions are one, our faith is one, our spirit is one, and this is real oneness.

"Today we are not one, and yet not two.

But we look alike as sisters do.'

"And the more we look alike, the more we feel each one is complimented. The peculiar genius of Presbyterianism for separation and reunion has cast a new constellation in the spiritual heavens of these three heavenly bodies."

Anxious for Union.

"We come as one regiment of the Presbyterian army to another," said Dr. Moore, in concluding his overture from the northern church. "I am yearning for some way to come into closer physical contact with your church, which really is my church. Is there any consideration strong enough to make it justifiable for those who are really one to remain apparently disunited?"

The appeal of Dr. Moore made a profound impression on the southern assembly, not only because of the substance of the address but because the man himself was pre-eminently qualified, of all men, to bear the felicitations of the northern assembly to southern brethren. For years Dr. Moore was a minister in the southern assembly, as was his brother, and his father before him was one of the most beloved of all the southern ministers.

"I am a minister of the northern church only because of physical necessity," said Dr. Moore, "for it is better to work in the northern church than to die here."

The reading of ninety overtures by the stated clerk was the order of the day Friday, and though many of the communications were technical and involved, the announcement of the substance only facilitated the direct reference of all letters to the proper committees.

The forenoon session was featured by several attacks on the increased work of the committee on foreign correspondence, and Dr. R. C. Reed, of Columbia, S. C., the defeated candidate for moderator, took an aggressive part in the battle for special committees to relieve the committee on foreign correspondence. The committee on bills and overtures was swamped with communications, among which the most sensational were, the change in the ecclesiastical year, Romanism and the attitude of the church toward tobacco.

Organic Union Questions.

All questions of organic union were referred to a special committee upon the recommendation of Dr. Cammel, seconded by Dr. Fraser, another of the defeated candidates for moderator. This followed the introduction of resolutions by Dr. Fraser postponing the consideration of organic union till a subsequent assembly, because, it was argued, a discussion of the organic union would be inappropriate at the present time. Following an adverse ruling by the moderator, Dr. Fraser withdrew his resolutions, which were then referred to a special committee.

A fight on the "brief statement" of the doctrines of the United States Presbyterian church was precipitated when two members of the committee refused to sign their names to the majority report, which was read by Dr. James I. Vance, of Nashville, Tenn., because the chairman of the committee, Dr. R. V. Webb, of Louisville, Ky., joined with Dr. R. C. Reed in the declaration that the report of the committee was not in harmony with the doctrinal standards of the church. A strong sentiment in favor of referring the "brief statement" of the church doctrine to each presbytery instead of to the general assembly indicates that there will be a lively fight against the report read by Dr. Vance, who was one of the majority members of the committee. Copies of the report, which were printed in pamphlet form, were handed each commissioner for his perusal.

Exercises at West Point.

West Point, Ga., May 16.—(Special.) The commencement exercises of the West Point public schools will be on May 26 at the Methodist church. The sermon will be preached by Rev. L. R. Christie, of the First Baptist church of Columbus, Ga., on May 25. In the evening there will be the annual union service at the First Baptist church, Rev. L. R. Christie preaching there. On May 27 the school concert in the school auditorium. The school will finish the examinations on school work on the 23d and will be closed for the summer, after a successful year.

Many Conversions at Griffin.

Griffin, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—As a result of recent revival campaigns in the churches of Griffin the pastors of three congregations report the addition of 110 new members on profession of faith. Of these the First Methodist church received 55 Hanlieter church 23 and the First Baptist church 32. It is announced that several others will yet join the various congregations of the city.

MATHIESON IS NAMED ASSISTANT TO ROWAN

Owing to Illness of Chief, He Is at Present in Charge of the County Force.

George Mathieson, in point of service the oldest member of the Fulton county police force, has been chosen to fill the newly created position of assistant chief. He has been on the force for thirteen years and is one of the most popular men in the service.

At present, owing to the illness of Chief Zach Rowan, Assistant Chief Mathieson has entire charge of the force that cares for the county.

Assistant Chief Mathieson was reared in the northern part of Fulton, and now lives north of Buckhead, where he has a large country place that is among the most valuable pieces of property there. He is known to all of the citizens living on the north side where he has lived and worked as an officer of the county police and has hundreds of friends who have extended their hearty congratulations to him on his being the choice of the county board to fill the responsible position of assistant chief of the police force.

The motorcycle men of the county will soon have eight new twin-motor machines upon which to ride their beats, as these have been ordered by the county commissioners. They are expected to arrive in a few days, and will greatly increase the efficiency of the men on the long country roads.

20 CARLOADS OF GEORGIA CATTLE SHIPPED TO WEST

Albany, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Twenty carloads of southwest Georgia cattle have been held up by the quarantine law at Albany and Camilla, after the shipment had begun to the "101" ranch, near Kansas City. The cattle were bought near Camilla and the first four cars got as far as Albany, where the Central railroad refused to take them from the Coast line. The rest of the shipment was then held up at Camilla and the movement will not be resumed until every steer in the lot has been sprayed as required by the quarantine laws, which are designed to prevent spreading of the cattle tick.

Persons in this part of the state have been surprised to learn of the shipment of cattle in such large numbers from southwest Georgia to the west.

BILL PLANS ANOTHER ARMY AVIATION CORPS

Washington, May 16.—An army aviation corps, separate from the signal corps, is proposed in a bill by Representative Hay, who will be chairman of the military affairs committee. It would provide a detail of a major, two captains and not more than thirty first lieutenants, with a quota of enlisted men to found a military aviation school. Officers and men would receive a 50 per cent increase in pay while serving in the aviation corps.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Dr. Brooks I. Dickey, of San Antonio, Texas, one of the most prominent of the visiting Presbyterian ministers, will preach a special sermon Sunday morning at St. Paul's Methodist church. Dr. M. A. Matthews, of Seattle, another distinguished visitor, will preach at the night service.

2,000 PEOPLE PRESENT AT COMMUNION SERVICE

A union communion service was held yesterday afternoon in the Baptist Tabernacle, in which all of the four Presbyterian denominations participated.

Dr. Robert M. Russell, moderator of the United Presbyterian church, delivered the address of the occasion, saying:

"What we need today is not to read the German translation of some little-brained nationalist, but to read the gospel of Jesus Christ."

Fully 2,000 people took the communion.

IMPORTANT CHANGE IN SCHEDULES.

Effective Sunday, May 18, Louisville and Nashville Railroad will extend the Blue Ridge accommodation to and from Murphy, N. C. This train will arrive Atlanta at 10:50 a. m. instead of 10:05 a. m., and will leave Atlanta at 4:05 p. m. instead of 4:40 p. m.

NEAR BEER DEALERS INDICTED ON FRIDAY

Selling Beer Without Paying State License Is Charge Against Them.

Indictments were returned yesterday by the Fulton county grand jury against five near beer dealers for selling beer without paying the state license of $300 for 1913. The men were ordered arrested on bench warrants and their bonds for release were placed at $750 apiece.

Julius Cohen, a Whitehall street dealer, was indicted on three counts and the following on one count: G. L. Carey, Ike Morris, J. M. Carroll and E. M. Casey.

All of the indictments are for misdemeanors and it is believed that an effort will be made to have them transferred to the criminal division of the city court.

These dealers are said to be the only ones who have not paid their state license for the current year, which was taken up by Governor Joseph M. Brown and which was urged investigated by him.

COHEN TRIES SUICIDE IN HOTEL IN VIDALIA

Vidalia, Ga., May 16.—(Specila.)—J. F. Cohen, of Dallas, Texas, a young traveling salesman, representing the West Disinfectant company, atempted to commit suicide in a local hotel last night by cutting his throat with a razor. The young man gasned his throat almost from ear to ear, barely missing the jugular vein.

The deed was done at 1:30 o'clock, and Cohen was found by the potrer at 3 o'clock this morning. He was rushed to the hospital, where physicians are hopeful o fsaving his life. Two small knife wounds above the heart were also inflicted. The young man was conscious when found, although weak from loss of much blood.

He refused to give a cause for his act, and begged piteously that his relatives be kept in ignorance of the deed.

GUARANTEE TRUST CASE ARGUMENT HAS BEGUN

Argument in the receivership suit against the Guarantee Trust and Banking company, now being heard in superior court, was begun Friday morning on conclusion of the evidence.

The first speech was made by Attorney Charles T. Hopkins. Mr. Hopkins concluded and court adjourned until Monday. At that time Attorneys Henry Peeples and Luther Z. Rosser, for the deefndants, will render their argument and the conclusion will be delivered by Albert Howell, attorney for the plaintiffs.

The case, which was brought over a month ago by certain stockholders and bondholders in the company, has been in superior court for over a week, and has necessitated the introduction of many lengthy depositions. It has been hard fought at every point.

First Blood for Red and Black

EDITED BY Dick Jemison

WHIFFS

He'll Know It.

HUGH ROBERTS, dean of southern league sport writers and sporting editor of the Birmingham Age Herald, sarcastically remarks: "It is so seldom that any one in Atlanta says a pleasant word concerning anything which does not occur in Atlanta, that the generosity of Jemison is doubly refreshing." This sarcasm was handed out as the result of our recent compliment to Birmingham fans for sending Pitcher Ray Boyd to Bonesetter Reese for repairs, expressing at the same time the hope that he be returned to them shortly in good condition. We see the good in people without looking in the mirror as seems to be the case in Slaxville, judging from this sarcasm.

Congratulations.

RUSSELL FORD, spit-baller extraordinary of the New York Yankees, is the proud father of an heir to the Ford income. A Miss Ford was born the other day in his home in North Carolina. Russ arrived there from the west yesterday.

Conditions Reversed.

NATIONAL league fans are beginning to sit up and take notice. The reversal of form of the Braves, Doves and Phillies is causing a real pennant scrap this season. Instead of coming east and running rough shod, the Western division clubs have had the steam roller put to them in each city they have visited, not finding a weak sister in any of the eastern cities Chicago and Pittsburg usually grabbed off a nice lead when visiting the eastern part of the circuit, but times have now changed. It is going to be a steady uphill grind for them this season with all four of the eastern clubs and both the other western ready to give them battle at any time.

The Big Four.

PHILADELPHIA, Cleveland, Washington and Chicago are the big four of the American league to date. The pennant winning Red Sox will have the battle of their young lives trying to overtake all four of these clubs this season. It begins to look as if the world's champs have shot their bolt and the battling will be between the four teams mentioned.

No Alibi Needed.

TY COBB will never go on the stage again, he is quoted as having said recently, which causes Bill Phelon, of Cincinnati, to arise and point to the fact that Ty is quoted as having said that the footlights hurt his eyes as an alibi. If Ty continues to get three hits in four times at the bat every day, no alibi will be needed.

Take Off Hats.

TWO BRAVES have doffed their Kellys to Wilson Collins, the Vanderbilt football star. Myers and Mann are considered the fastest men on the club, and have planned a match race. But they wish it distinctly understood that the ex-Vandy star is barred. They are racing for second honors, the rest of the team handing it to them on this. They say not the only one. Collins beat the great Ty Cobb in a sprint race at Nashville recently.

Panic In Tobacco.

ORDINARILY Bill Smith is a genial soul, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal. "But with things breaking against his club— While the Crackers were sliding down the percentage table Bill was sliding up and down the bench, devouring the weed at a lively clip. Working under pressure or the stress of the excitement of a close battle, Bill can get away with more tobacco on a single rotary jam movement than any other mortal this side of the state of Kalntuck."

Kidded Heinie.

TESREAU has it on Heinie Zimmerman, the champ batter of the National league. In the game recently, he and Heinie got kidding and the big hurler had the best of it. The only evidence that is needed as proof is the fact that Zim fanned at nine straight balls.

Red and Black Batters Hit 'Smoey' Eubanks in Pinch, Winning Friday's Game 4-1

Teams Battle in Final Game of Series This Afternoon. Pitts Faces Morris—Count Now Stands Tech 2, Georgia 1—Hutchens, Henderson and Clements Drive in Georgia's Runs.

By Robert L. Hughes.

Amid the yells of thousands of fans, Georgia succeeded in defeating the Tech Yellow Jackets by a 4 to 1 score. The attendance was by far the largest of the year, the crowds surging over the field, making it necessary for the establishment of ground rules.

The banks from first base around to third were one solid mass of spectators. The colors of both teams were much in evidence. It was a gala day for collegians young and old.

The Tech rooters took the stand early, opening up with the band playing "Rambling Wreck," followed by the Georgia air of "Glory, Glory to Old Georgia."

"Smoey" Eubanks was again sent to the mound to face Corley. However, the Tech twirler did not fare as well on the local diamond as he did in Athens.

Corley received brilliant support and twirled phenomenal ball. He allowed only five safeties during his nine rounds, several of these being of the scratchiest order.

Eubanks also pitched a great game, but was unable to keep the swatting Georgians fro connecting at crucial moments. Eubanks also hit safely twice out of three attempts, scoring the Jackets only run.

Both Field Well

Both teams rivaled each other in the splendor of their fielding. Each team pulled off two fast double plays retiring men at the plate, in the shaky periods of the game.

"Scrappy" Moore's running catch of Covington's pole into left field, with his back to the diamond, was the fielding feature of the day. Captain Montague also went into the right garden after one that looked good to all but the erstwhile second sacker.

Jack Donaldson's stick work for the Jackets proved most effective. His playing in the field and at bat has been of the gilt-edge type in all three of the Georgia games. Out of three trips to the rubber Friday he connected safely twice.

The batting honors of the Red and Black nine go to Bowden, Hutchens and Henderson, who hammered out two lucious wallops each.

Batting fiercely through nine of the greatest innings of baseball that has been seen at the Flats this year, Georgia was never sure of her lead until the last Jacket had been retired in the final session.

Tech had several opportunities of breaking up the game. Once they were retired on a well-executed double play with runners hanging on all the sacks. It was just such support as this, coupled with Corley's phenomenal pitching, that put the joy in the Georgians.

Georgia Opened Strong.

The Georgians started the Jackets buzzing at the jump when Gulnn, first to face Eubanks, led off with a smash through first and went to second on Holmes' wild throw to the plate. Gulnn was thrown out trying to purloin third. Bowden fanned and Captain McWhorter grounded out Eubanks to Amason. Georgia did not menace the Jackets score board again until the fourth, when they counted twice. With one down, Bowden laid one safely in left. McWhorter flew out to Wooten. Hutchens smashed one to deep right for two bags, scoring Bowden. Henderson, the Georgians slugging first sacker, sent one through second, scoring Hutchens.

The Red and Black annexed another run in the sixth. Bowden took first on four wide ones and went to second on McWhorter's sacrifice. Hutchens singled over short, advancing Bowden a sack. Bowden scored on Henderson's single to right, Hutchens going to third. Covington and Harrison both filled out.

Jackets Score.

The Jackets made the Georgia nine lay aside the whitewash brush in the eighth, when they succeeded in pushing across their lone tally.

Amason got a life on Henderson's error. Donaldson failed to locate Corley and whiffed three. Attridge sent a Texas leaguer to right, Amason taking third.

Eubanks laid down a beautiful bunt in front of the plate, which he beat out to first, Amason scoring. Attridge took third. Wooten grounded to Clements, who threw home, catching Attridge at the plate. Eubanks took second on the throw. Wooten being safe at first. Amason was sent in to run for Eubanks, but Moore struck at three of Corley's benders, putting an end to a nerve-racking inning.

In the ninth Georgia came back with another run. With one gone, Harrison grounded down third line, the ball hitting the sack and bounding into the crowd for two sacks. Eubanks retired Corley with three puzzlers. Clements singled to left, scoring Harrison, while Gulnn flied out to T. Montague.

Tech tried a rally in the last chapter when Captain Montague, with one gone, got a free pass, stole second, went to third on Pound's sacrifice.

Amason fanned, and Georgia had at last won an overdue victory from her greatest rivals.

MERCER WINS HURLING DUEL

Macon, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—In a closely fought game this afternoon Mercer took the first game from Florida by the score of 3 to 1. It was a good game, steady and fast, but no spectacular playing.

Mercer scored early. In the first, with two men down, Gibson walked, stole second and on Rice's hot liner to short, which got through to center, scored.

In the fourth Grace walked, went to third on catcher's wild peg to first and came home on Farmer's single.

Again in the eighth Roddenberry singled, Cochran was hit by pitched ball, advancing Rod to third and on Wills' neat sacrifice Rod scored the third and last tally for Mercer.

Florida scored her only run in the sixth. Pulliam walked, went to second on Henderson's grounder and scored on Price's long drive to center.

Both pitchers pitched well, both allowing only three hits apiece.

Another game will be pulled off tomorrow between the two teams at Central City park and Mercer is very anxous to win and will put up a good stiff fight for the game.

"TILLIE" SHAFER HAS DISAPPEARED

New York, May 16.—Considerable mystery developed today over the disappearance of Arthur Shafer, of the New York Giants. Shafer played center field in the game against Pittsburg at the Polo grounds yesterday, and there was nothing about his conduct then to attract attention among his team mates.

Shafer failed to report at the grounds during the forenoon today, and Manager McGraw said that he had not heard from him and did not know why he absented himself.

There was some trouble regarding Shafer's contract early this spring, and for a time it was reported at Los Angeles that he would retire from professional ball and assume charge of an automobile agency on the Pacific coast. He finally reported for practice at Marlin Springs, Texas, and has been with the team until today. McGraw has moved Shafer about several times, but so far as known, Shafer never expressed dissatisfaction over this.

Charleston, S. C., May 16.—With a patched up team in the field the locals forced Macon to play a twelve inning game with the visitors won by the score of 2 to 1. The contest was a pitchers' battle between Foster and Voss. Both pitched excellent ball. The fielding of Nixon and Hoy was a feature of the game. Nixon drove in the winning run with a two-bagger, after Baumgardner singled and stole second, with two down. Manager Needham was forced to use a catcher and two pitchers in his line-up today, as Pitcher Ridgeway, Outfielder Witter and Infielder Baseman Smith have been indefinitely suspended and heavily fined as it is claimed that they planned to jump to the Federal league.

Baxley Wins Two.

Baxley, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Baxley defeated Jesup in two games of ball here Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The first game resulted in a victory for Baxley by a score of 10 to 4, and the game of Wednesday also resulted in another victory for Baxley, the score being 9 to 4. The only features of the game was the heavy hitting of the Baxley team, Dickinson and Tuten leading with the stick, both getting long drives in each game for two and three bases. The Baxley aggregation is going strong at this time, having lost only one series thus far, and that to Eastman, but they expect to meet Eastman the latter part of this month on the home ground, where the seldom meet defeat. Batteries first game: For Jesup, Tyre, Carroll and Strickland; Baxley, Tuten and Barnes. Second game: Jesup, Carroll, Harrison and Strickland; Baxley, Barnes and Tuten.

In Ancient Rome.

(From The Roman Heraldyt.)

Women took an active part in elections and many a man owed his success to the smiles of his fair supporters as much as to his own eloquence. Seneca ascribes his election as quaestor to the influence of his aunt, whose tact and dignity enabled her to push his cause in the right quarters, and even the great Julius Caesar might never have had his opportunity had it not been for a woman. The beautiful Servilia, mother of Brutus, made her house a center of propaganda in his favor, and to ther belongs the credit of obtaining his appointment as governor of Gaul. Inscriptions discovered in Pompeii record how women enrolled themselves in political clubs and worked for candidates, making speeches, hiring a wall to post up electoral addresses and generally acting as electioneering agents. Frequently also a husband and wife unite in recommending a candidate, the wife being bracketted in equal terms with the husband.

ONE GAME TODAY AT NEW ORLEANS

Double-Header Will Be Played Sunday—Price to Pitch Today—Dent Reports to Local Club Here.

By Sam L. Gilbert.

New Orleans, May 16.—(Special.)—Wet grounds prevented the scheduled opening of the series with Billy Smith's Atlanta Crackers Friday, but the Pelicans will entertain them in a matinee Saturday, and on Sunday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock, a double-header will be in order.

The Sunday battles will be regulation nine-inning affairs. Chief Charley Frank not being a believer in pruning two periods of seven, though the Birds must leave Sunday night on a road trip, opening a series at Chattanooga on Monday.

Manager Smith, of the Crackers, talked confidently Friday night of taking three out of three games from the tail-end locals.

He expects to fling his best bet, Price, in the game Saturday, with Furchner to fall back upon in case the unexpected happens.

The Crackers' boss declared his boys were the best batting aggregation he'd ever seen. Since leaving home on the long road trip the pitchers haven't been going quite so well, and the Crackers haven't gotten an even break in luck, but there has been hardly a game in which Smith's team has failed to make four or five runs, and often more.

Pitcher Dent will report at Atlanta, and be ready to aid in turning back the Memphis Chickasaws, who open a series at Crackertown next Monday.

EDGEWOOD WINS OVER FORMWALT

Public Schools Series Now Stands a Tie--The Deciding Game Will Be Played Next Monday.

By Hal Reynolds.

Edgewood ran away with the second game of the championship series with Formwalt yesterday afternoon by the score of 9 to 2.

Smith twirled as good, if not a better, game than the opening one. He fanned fifteen men, walked one and gave up only five hits, all of which were widely scattered. Rives starred at the bat, securing three hits out of five trips to the pan.

Wallace did not hold up under the strain of pitching two games in a row, being hammered hard by Edgewood batters. He was rapped for ten bingles.

The two teams will meet again next Wednesday afternoon at Marist. This game will decide the championship, as each team has now won one game each. Smith and Wallace will probably do the hurling again.

Ruined auto truck that crashed over forty-foot embankment.

Q. F. Walsaven, a county employe, was seriously and possibly fatally injured at about noon yesterday, when an auto truck belonging to the county, in which he was riding, crashed over a forty-foot embankment on North avenue, opposite the Georgia Tech athletic field. The driver, Carl Garmon, was hurled from the machine, but escaped with only a few slight bruises and cuts.

Walraven was rushed to the Grady hospital, where it was impossible to ascertain the extent of his injuries. It is believed that his back was broken, but this cannot be ascertained with any degree of surety until an X-ray picture is taken of him today.

The machine was coming down North avenue, when the driver lost control, and the auto ran over the pavement, down the embankment. Before it struck the bottom it hit a tree and Walraven was hurled twenty or thirty feet away.

THREE-CORNERED BOAT RACE TODAY

Princeton, N. J., May 16.—The varsity crews representing Princeton, Annapolis and Columbia will take part in a triangular regatta on Lake Carnegie tomorrow afternoon. None of the coaches would venture any prediction concerning the probable outcome of the race. Columbia is a slight favorite tonight with the Tigers picked for second place.

GEORGE MULLIN SOLD TO WASHINGTON CLUB

Detroit, May 16.—Pitcher George Mullin, in point of service the oldest member of the Detroit baseball club, was sold tonight to the Washington Americans for $2,500.

Mullin joined Detroit in 1902, and three times helped to pitch Detroit into the American league championship. His showing this spring has not been satisfactory. Mullin said he still could pitch as good ball as he ever did.

COLLEGE ATHLETIC MARKS SHATTERED

New Orleans, May 16.—One new Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association record was broken here today when the preliminaries were held. Lamb, of Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical, hurled the discus 117 feet, 5 inches, excelling the old record held by Freeland, of Vanderbilt, who made 108 feet. Louisiana State university, Vanderbilt and Tulane showed strength in the sprints. Upton, of Louisiana State university, won both his qualifying heats in the 100 and 220-yard dashes. Coleman and Smith, of Tulane, qualified. Stahlman, of Vanderbilt, won his trial heats in the 120 and 220-yard hurdle races. In the former events Burris, of Louisiana State university, made the fastest time in winning a heat.

Owing to heavy rains during the morning the track was slow.

The finals will be contested Saturday.

ELECTRIC LINE SOON FOR EMORY COLLEGE

With the electrification of the Covington and Oxford street railway, the 3-mile-long line that connects the city of Covington with Emory college, it is believed that the last horse and mule car will have passed from Georgia. The initial step in this improvement was taken yesterday, when the company petitioned the secretary of state to be allowed to increase its capital stock from $10,000 to $50,000. The increase in capital stock is to be used in changing the motive power. It is also proposed to extend the line to Porterdale, making the total length 6 miles instead of three as heretofore. The hundreds of Emory alumni throughout the state will recall the little mule line of cars that took them to and from their alma mater, and will be interested in the change.

WILL LECTURE ON HELL AT CABLE CONCERT HALL

"Who Will Go to Hell and Why," is the topic of an address to be delivered at the Cable concert hall tomorrow evening at 3 o'clock by Owen L. Sullivan, a Bible lecturer of Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Sullivan has made a special study of his subject from the Bible. He holds that there are two salvations, but no second chance. All who are interested in the subject of immortality and future punishment are invited to hear Mr. Sullivan. There will be no charge for admission or collections taken.

"INSURGENT" WOODMEN PERFECT ORGANIZATION

Springfield, Ill., May 16.—Plans for the organization of the "insurgent" modern Woodmen of America were perfected today when the convention adopted a committee report recommending that the members of such state be elected to a body to be known as the "National Modern Woodmen of America Federation."

YALE AND HARVARD IN TRACK MEET TODAY

New Haven, Conn., May 16.—Yale and Harvard will hold their annual track meet on Yale field tomorrow afternoon, with the odds favoring the Crimson. Harvard has beaten Cornell on the track this year, and Yale has beaten Princeton, but the Cambridge team is believed to be more evenly balanced.

Home Is Destroyed.

Originating from a gas heater in the bath room, flames totally destroyed the home of G. W. Mitchell, at 80 Greensferry avenue, early last night. No one was hurt. The damage is estimated at $1,500, covered by insurance.

FOREIGN WHITE PINE PUT UNDER QUARANTINE

Washington, May 16.—To prevent the introduction into the United States of the white pine "blister rust" Secretary Houston today decided to forbid the importation of all five-leafed pines from Great Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Norway, Sweden, Russia, Germany, Austria, Switzerland and Italy. A hearing of those interested in the quarantine will be held at the department of agriculture May 20.

W. & A. Railroad Fined $100.

In the United States district court Thursday Judge Newman, presiding, the Western and Atlantic railway, through its attorneys, Ty. Peeples & Jordan, entered a plea of guilty to an indictment charging the management of the railway corporation with a wilful violation of live stock quarantine law and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100. The indictment against the company was found at Rome in the northwestern division of the northern district and alleged that the Western and Atlantic railway received on October 28, 1911, at Dalton, 28 cattle for shipment from Dalton to Nashville and shipped the stock described despite the quarantine laws. The case was transferred from the Rome court to Atlanta.

EMPIRE STATE LEAGUE

Valdosta 11, Brunswick 1.

Valdosta, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—By all round superior ball playing Valdosta defeated Brunswick 11 to 1. Valdosta batted Walker out of the box in the fourth. Wiggins succeeded him, but fared little better. Elrod worked for Valdosta and pitched a nice game, especially in the pinches. The game was featured by Pierre's triple in the fourth, clearing the bases. Walker's catch of a long drive to right center and the hit-and-run game worked by Valdosta. Valdosta stole seven bases.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Valdosta . . . . 004 303 01x—11 9 0
Brunswick . . . 000 000 000—1 10 2

Batteries: Elrod and Pierre; Walker, Wiggins and Geesilin.

Thomasville 5, Americus 3.

Thomasville, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Americus was defeated in the second game here this afternoon by a score of 5 to 3. Chancey's homer over right field fence with one on base featured and otherewise slow and listless game. Crow, for the locals, played beautiful ball at third. Roth and Werner were both tapped for nine safeties.

Score by innings: R. H. E.
Thomasville . . . 040 010 00x—5 9 1
Americus . . . . 001 002 000—3 9 2

Cordele 12, Waycross 1.

Cordele, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—Waycross put up an extremely poor game against Cordele this afternoon and lost by the score of 12 to 1. With the first several innings Cordele had the game well in hand and up to the ninth inning the visitors were shut out, when they bunched hits and an error of Smiley, Cordele's shortstop scored a run for them. Hall did the twirling for the home team, and though the visitors rapped him up for ten hits, Reagan's chaps did splendid fielding and held Waycross helpless. Cordele managed to get pretty hits when the bases were drunk, batting Herring all over the lot.

Score by innings. R. H. E.

AT THE THEATERS

"Are You a Mason?"

(At the Atlanta.)

This afternoon a 25-cent matinee will be given by Miss Billy Long and her associate players at the Atlanta, the bill being "Are You a Mason?" This is the finest farce comedy written in years, and has more than a thousand laughs in the two hours needed for its presentation. It ripples with delightful comedy. The last performance of the play will be given tonight. Next week a sensational drama, "The Deep Purple," will be played by the Atlanta company. This dramatic offering is intensely interesting and is expected to prove the biggest hit of the summer stock season. It is a play that is live, full of thrills and has a love story appealing to all. Seats are now selling for the week, beginning with Monday matinee.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Matinee and night performances today will end the third week of the new Keith vaudeville season at the busy Forsyth, and theatergoers are delighted with the knowledge that the campaign has been brilliantly successful. The advance sales for the last chance to see Paul Dickey, the Apollo Trio, Mayo and Allman and other entertainers on this week, indicates the usual capacity attendance. A feature for next week will be Gillette's "Adam and Eve," the smartest trained monkeys that have been exhibited. Gallagher and Fields, in their absurd farce comedy, "The Battle of Bay Rum," will win laughter with their satire on a real war.

Deputies Guard Mine.

Wharton, N. J., May 16.—Two hundred and fifty deputy sheriffs today guarded the Mount Hope mine of the Empire Iron and Steel company, where a strike of miners and railroad employees has been in progress. Daylight brought cessation of the night's rioting. Five deputies are in a Morristown hospital, and five rioters are in the county jail.

M'WHORTER IS NAMED ON EXPERIMENT BOARD

The Hon. J. W. McWhorter, of Watkinsville, has been appointed a member of the board of trustees of the state experiment station at Griffin to succeed the commissioner of agriculture, J. D. Price, who resigned. Mr. Price will continue to be a member of the board, however, as the office to which he has been elected and which he assumes the last week in June, carries with it membership on the experiment station board. Mr. Price resigned so that there may be no vacancies on the board at the next meeting.

HARRY POOLE MOVES INTO NEW QUARTERS

Harry G. Poole, one of the best-known undertakers in Atlanta, who has been located on East Hunter street for a number of years, has moved to new quarters at 96 South Pryor street.

The new building is specially designed for the needs of modern establishment of undertakers, and is thoroughly equipped, having spacious parlors, and also a large chapel, where funeral services may be held.

Tabloid Musical Comedy.

(At the Bijou.)

Tabloid musical comedy, with vaudeville, will be the attraction at the Bijou next week. The opening bill of a season that promises to be popular will be "A Trip to Joyville," with 20 vaudeville and musical comedy people, including a chorus of decidedly pretty girls. This offering has played with great success in a number of the southern cities, and has a splendid record in the west, where this style of entertainment was originally introduced. The Bijou will continue its policy of daily matinees at 2 p. m., with two matinees on Monday and Saturday and two night performances, the first at :30 and the second at 9 o'clock.

Seek Wife of Suicide.

The police authorities are trying to locate the widow of Joe Miller, who committed suicide in Charleston, S. C., April 5. Police Chief Beavers received yesterday a letter from J. Turtletaub, president of the Hebrew Strangers' Aid society, in Charleston, who believes that Miller had a wife in this city. The letter stated that she was living with her mother. Miller was a stranger in Charleston, and drank carbolic acid because he was unable to find work.

Hal Hentz Leaves Hospital.

Hal F. Hentz, who has been ill at Grady hospital for the past ten days, has become well enough to go to his home, and announced last night that this afternoon he would return to his home at 102 Greenwich avenue.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The announcement of several sales on Friday lent a somewhat brighter aspect to the realty market than it has displayed for the last several days. The sales announced Friday were as follows:

Real Estate Sales.

Fischer & Cook have sold for W. W. Orr and R. R. Wood to Mrs. Lolette Lenney the southwest corner of Forsyth and Garnett streets, for an aggregate of $23,500.

This property has a frontage of 45 feet on Forsyth street and 80 feet on Garnett, to an alley.

The same agency sold for W. A. Callaway to a client No. 266 Spring street, the southwest corner of Mills, a six-room cottage on a lot 50x80, for $7,500.

This agency made the following smaller sales:

For W. F. Thebaut to D. S. Brady a lot on the south side of Ponce de Leon avenue, between Barnett and Bonaventure streets, 54x200, for $1,250.

For W. A. Perkinson to W. A. Callaway three houses and lots at Nos. 25, 27, 29 Cunningham place, for $2,750 each.

Residence Permit.

Preston S. Arkwright has taken a permit to build a $20,000 residence on Ponce de Leon avenue, just beyond the Lullwater bridge, in Druid Hills.

Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, who bought the former Arkwright lot on Ponce de Leon avenue, adjoining the corner of Oakdale, will build a residence on it shortly.

Correction.

The announcement several days ago that Mrs. Lena Chamblee was the purchaser of No. 227 Whitehall street, was in error. The purchaser of the property was J. B. Chamblee.

LOST AND FOUND

THAT LOST ARTICLE MAY NOT BE FOUND TODAY

Or tomorrow or next week—in fact, a month or more may elapse before it turns up. A little persistency may be necessary. Often the article remains unfound; often fear of prosecution or hope of a more satisfactory reward may delay the restoration. Then, the belated awakening of the finder's conscience explains many delays. But persistency and Constitution wants will usually recover a lost article if an honest person finds it. The service of The Constitution Lost and Found Bureau is also enlisted in behalf of advertisers.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL OF THE MARKETS

COTTON RECOVERED EARLY SESSION'S LOSS

Market Closed Steady, Net Unchanged to Six Points Higher.

New York, May 16.—A feeling that drought conditions in the eastern belt had been partly relieved by showers, and that further showers were to be expected, caused quite a flurry of selling in the cotton market early today, but offerings seemed to be readily taken at a moderate decline, and prices more than recovered the loss, closing steady net unchanged to 6 points higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 points on May, but generally unchanged to 3 points lower, and soon sold 5 to 8 points under the closing figures of last night on active positions.

The weather map showed more general precipitation in the south than has been reported at any time since drought complaints began to come in from east of the river, but the best rains were west of the droughty sections, and neither the weather news nor the expectation of the early weekend figures seemed to create any really general or aggressive selling. On the contrary, offerings were quite readily absorbed by covering of shorts for over the week-end or foreign trade buying on the early decline, and after the publication of the detailed reports, showing only light scattered showers in most districts east of the river, the market became firmer.

Business was comparatively quiet during the middle of the day, but Wall street and uptown shorts were quite active buyers in the last half hour and closing prices were practically the best.

A further decrease in the local certificated stock probably accounted for the relatively steady tone in July, while new drop months were held back on the rally, owing to more favorable private crop accounts and weather predictions of eastern belt rain fall.

Liverpool was closed today, and will remain closed tomorrow, and the influence of a full week's holiday in Manchester was considered partly responsible for the small decrease of about 8,000 bales in the world's visible supply of American cotton for the week as compared with a decrease of 184,000 bales for the same week last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet; middling uplands 12.00; middling gulf 12.25; sales 1,667 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, May 16.—The cotton market was quiet, but steady today, with the new crops showing decided resistance to selling pressure around the 12-cent market. Early in the session the market had a tendency to decline, on good weather and crop reports, but in the afternoon the tendency was to advance and the relief reason for the rise seemed to be that not enough rain had fallen in the eastern half of the belt. Professionals seemed willing to buy on this feature, even in view of the forecast of rain tonight and tomorrow. Shorts were fairly active buyers of covering the day through.

On the opening, the tone was steady and prices were 5 to 7 points down, on good rains in the cotton region. Bears also allied attention to the reasonable temperatures in the belt. Bulls bought little. Cotton in the morning session, the demand coming chiefly from the short side. At the lowest, the trading months were 7 to 8 points down, reports of cotton blooming in southwest Texas stimulating some little fresh selling for short account. Toward noon, the market commenced to recover and in the afternoon it went to a net advance on telegrams circulated by bulls tending to show that drought conditions in the east had not been wholly relieved.

At the finish, the trading months were 3 to 5 points over the final figures of yesterday.

The close was firm at the highest of the day. Spot cotton quiet, unchanged; middling 12 5-16; sales on the spot, 550 bales; to arrive 50 low ordinary, 9.15 lb. ordinary, 9.90 good ordinary, 10 7-16 strict good ordinary, 11 1/4 low middling, 11 5-16 middling, 12 1/4 good middling, 12 7-16 strict good middling, 12 3/4 middling fair, 13 11-16; fair, 14 1-8. nominal; receipts, 1,977; stock, 72,291.

Imports an Exports.

New York, May 16.—Imports of merchandise and dry goods for the week ending May 10, were valued at $18,613,516.

Imports of specie for the week ending today, $107,211 silver, $258,836 gold.

Exports of specie for the week ending today, $401,130 silver, $4,408,266 gold.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 16.—The usual speculative dullness continues, but the market is steady, with the position showing a large interest indicated to further commitments. As a result, the bears of the rains in the belt fail upon an unresponsive trade. There is little to mention beyond the local nature of trading, the confidence in crop prices and the lack of speculative business. While every one seems confident that the rains all belts reward a decline, and see that a crop disaster is needed to advance the market, prices hold steady and closed better than last evening.

Gibert & Clay.

New York, May 16.—Beneficial showers to good rains in Texas, the central states and parts of the Carolinas and Georgia, during the past 24 hours, were followed by rather general selling here, at the opening, under which prices declined some six points. The weight of the selling went into the new crop, but at the small decline, shorts showed an eagerness to cover and their buying finally advanced values to the extent of the early loss. The rain in Texas is looked upon as especially favorable, now that higher temperatures may reasonably be expected. While the drought in the Atlantic states has not been generally broken, indications point to further rain there and, consequently, crop prospects are considered very satisfactory to date.

WHEAT, CORN AND OATS ALL MADE ADVANCES

Oats Shorts Became Nervous on Account of Lack of Moisture and Bought.

Chicago, May 16.—Squeezing of shorts in May oats counted strongly against the bears today in all kinds of grain. Net advances were: Oats, ¾ to 1¼ cents; wheat, ⅝ to 1 cent; corn, ⅜ to ⅝ cent; and provisions finished 10 to 12½ cents off to 5 cents up.

Renewed complaints of insufficient moisture made oats shorts nervous. It was a strong commission buying, attributed to a concentrated long interest, however, that started a stampede to cover and spread bullish influence to the trading in provisions. May delivery was bid up 1¼ to 38¾ cents before holders were willing to accept profits. Even at that price, the sales were accompanied by equal sized purchasing of September.

In the wheat crowd, new sellers were scarce. The flurry in oats made caution desirable. Kansas sent word of chinch bugs, and there were less favorable advices concerning the crop outlook in Russia, as well as predictions of smaller shipments from that country. Expected adjustment of the sight draft dispute, which has interfered with export business, gave further encouragement to the bulls. In addition, clearances of wheat and flour for the week were the largest since 1907. The total was equalled 835,000 bushels. Primary receipts of what today were 534,000 bushels; a year ago 381,000 bushels.

Corn gained support because of stoppage of offerings from Iowa. Progress in planting there was reported fast, and reserves likely to be held for thirty days yet.

Provisions averaged lower on account of a liberal run of hogs west. Packers, however, through commission houses, steadied the market.

COTTON THE PAST WEEK. REVIEW OF THE MARKET

New York, May 16.—While advances have not been fully maintained, the cotton market has shown a fairly steady tone during the past week, with considerable bidding power noted on breaks below the 11-cent level for new crop months. The demand has been attributed partly to Europeans against and there has also been a good deal of covering by recent sellers who are supposed to have been influenced by further advices from the local stock and reports of low temperatures and dry weather in the eastern belt. Saturday's showers in droughty sections prompted reactions toward the end of the week, but conditions of delayed germination and a late start for the crop cast of the river to cause activity as to the showing of the government's first crop report, which is due on June 2, and prices held well above the recent low level. Meanwhile, new crop complaints are being received from other western or central sections of the belt and private advices from the Atlantic states have been to somewhat lessening, with some authorities claiming that good, warm rains in the near future would bring cotton up in fine shape and revive the bearish view of the outlook, based on expectations of increased acreage and more thorough preparation and cultivation.

Optimistic European trade advices have been noted to some extent, by the development of higher money in Berlin, but people, connected with the trade, do not attribute much importance to claims that foreign spinners hold a favorable opinion of new crop deliveries around prevailing prices, owing to reductions in their raw material reserves, prospects for improved trade, with peace in the Balkans and the uncertainties of the new crop outturn. Domestic mill consumption continued full during April, but northern spinners reported still more or less disturbed by tariff uncertainties.

TRADE REVIEWED BY COMMERCIAL AGENCIES

New York, May 16.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say that trade currents indicate the existence of relatively satisfactory conditions, though the eruptive still are interspersed with evidence of more or less irregularity in the distribution. Conservatism is being practiced, as to future trade pending prospective tariff changes, and sickness in one or another zone has been counterbalanced by improved movements in other places.

Retail trade this week has been restricted by cool weather, a temporary factor, and new business of relatively satisfactory conditions. On the other hand, crop conditions are mainly favorable. The winter wheat crop has undoubtedly made further progress toward a bumper yield and while in view of the fact there is no talk as yet about tariff matters, sentiment at the moment seems to be rather less pessimistic.

In some places, wholesale trade is better than anticipated.

Wheat, including flour, exports, United States and Canada for the week ending May 15, are the largest since October, 1912, amounting to 7,011,479 bushels, against 4,027,535 this week last year.

Business failures for the week ending May 15 were 229, which compares with 243 in the like week of 1912.

STOCKS HELD FIRMLY TO THE HIGHER LEVEL

Prices Rose Generally, Although There Was Limited Demand. Bonds Irregular.

New York, May 16.—Having sold stocks on the two previous days, traders bought them back today. The slow upward movement represented another of the alternate advances and declines of the week, in response to the drift of speculation. Bear traders, fearful of an over-extension of the short account, did not venture to carry selling further in view of the evidence of strength at the opening and the advance of American securities in London. Stocks were in smart supply and although the demand seemed to be limited principally to the requirements of the shorts, prices rose generally. When covering was completed, the market came virtually to a standstill, but prices were held firmly at the higher level.

The underlying strength of the market was indicated by its resistance to renewed liquidation, which broke out late in the day chiefly among the low-priced railroad securities.

Seaboard common and preferred, Wabash preferred and St. Louis and San Francisco common and second preferred, all touched the new low points for the year. Weakness of several issues of railroad bonds was still more conspicuous. Rock Island collateral fours, St. Louis and San Francisco fours and fives, Chesapeake and Ohio convertible four-and-a-half's and Southern Railway fives touched the year's low point. In spite of liquidation of these securities, the general market held firm, closing at the best prices of the day.

Reduction of the New Haven dividend rate from 8 to 6, announced after the close yesterday, had been fully discounted in the long decline of recent months, and the price advanced today. Amalgamated was strengthened by the fortnightly statistics of the copper stocks in Europe, showing an unexpectedly heavy decrease.

Forecasts of the weekly bank statement indicated a gain of cash of $4,000,000 to $5,000,000.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,386,000. United States twos registered, declined 1-4 on call.

Money and Exchange.

New York, May 16.—Money on call easy, 2½@2¾ per cent; ruling rate, 2¾; closing bid, 2¾; offered at 2¾.

Time loans firm; 60 and 90 days, 4@4¼ per cent; six months, 4¼@4¾.

Prime mercantile paper, 5¼@6½.

Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.8280 for 60-day bills and at $4.8630 for demand.

Commercial bills, $4.82¼.

Bar silver, 59¾.

Mexican dollars, 48.

Government bonds easy; railroad bonds irregular.

Foreign Finances.

Paris, May 16.—Three per cent rentes, 85 francs 5 centimes. Exchange on London, 25 francs 20½ centimes for checks. Private rate of discount, 4 per cent.

London, May 16.—Rolling engagements of gold were taken into the Bank of England on balance today.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, May 16.—The condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business today is:

Working balance, $83,389,910.

In banks and Philippine treasury, $45,006,834.

Total of general fund, $128,316,643.

Receipts yesterday, $1,976,407.

Disbursements, $2,027,943.

The surplus this fiscal year is $3,876,000, as against a deficit of $18,480,627 last year.

The figures for receipts, disbursements, surplus and deficit exclude Panama canal and public debt transactions.

Mining Stocks.

Boston, May 16.—Arizona Commercial, 8¼; Calumet and Arizona, 63¼. Greene Cananea, 6⅝; North Butte, 28.

Metals.

New York, May 16.—Copper firm; standard spot and May, $15.50, offered; June, $15.60, offered; July and August, $15.37, offered; electrolytic, $15.87@16.00; lake, $16.00; casting, $15.62.

Tin firm; spot to June, $40.45@40.60; July, $40.00@40.00.

Lead steady at $5.40@5.45.

Antimony dull; Cookson's, $8.75@9.00.

HILLYER TO HEAD BANKERS OF STATE

Macon Financier Will Be Unanimously Elected President Today—Stetson on Executive Committee.

Macon, Ga., May 16.—(Special.)—The bankers of Georgia made little progress on the opening day of their convention, and the entire day will probably be consumed tomorrow in disposing of matters that are now pending.

It has been expected that the proposed new state banking law to establish a department of banking in Georgia would be favorably acted upon today, but the bankers had not counted on spending about a day and school picnic at Lakeside park, where they went for their barbecue this afternoon, making the holding of the afternoon session impossibility. The bill will be adopted first thing tomorrow morning.

Hillyer's Election Assured.

E. W. Stetson, president of the Citizens bank of Macon, was today elected a member of the executive council of the American Bankers' association from the state of Georgia, succeeding L. P. Hillyer, vice president of the American National bank of Macon, and vice president of the above association, who will tomorrow be unanimously elected president of the state association, succeeding R. W. Hunt, of Atlanta. Mr. Hillyer was for twenty-three years secretary of the state association, and was one of the charter members.

Mr. Hillyer was for twenty-three years secretary of the state association, and was one of the charter members.

McFadden to be Re-elected.

Today was taken up with the formal opening of the convention and the reading of reports by the officers, the chief features of which were the recommendations by President Hunt that the convention authorize two new committees, one on agriculture, and the other on currency reform. This recommendation will probably be acted on favorably tomorrow under the head of new business.

At noon today Mills B. Lane, of Savannah, the first vice president of the association, gave a luncheon in honor of twelve of the visiting founders of the Georgia Banking association. In Lakeside park on a special train, where they enjoyed an old-fashioned barbecue with all the usual side trimmings.

Tonight the annual banquet of the association was served in the banquet hall of the Hotel Lanier, and is being held Judge Emory Speer, of the United States district court, was the speaker of the occasion.

Fine Report by McFadden.

The report of Haynes McFadden, secretary of the association, showed an increase in membership during the past year of 129, equivalent to 27 per cent. The membership at the beginning of the year was 481 and has now grown to 610. Of this number 318 are members of the American Bankers association and in addition there are 85 not members of the Georgia Bankers' association, who are members of the American Bankers' association.

According to the report, there are 834 banks in the state, fifteen having gone out of business since the last convention was held, through consolidations, liquidations and failures. To the honor of State Treasurer J. W. Speer it must be said that he has done splendid work with wornout tools," says the report.

The secretary, while not anticipating the report of the treasurer, stated that the association had prospered financially during the year, having 3,000 in the treasury after expending nearly $5,000 in various enterprises during the year.

FOUR ROADS INDICTED ON REBATING CHARGE

East St. Louis, Ill., May 16.—Five indictments, charging rebating and discriminating in 63 counts were returned late today against four railroads and a coal company by a federal grand jury here. The indictments set forth instances wherein it is alleged the laws were violated by the Vandalia; Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis (Big Four); Chicago, Indiana and Southern; the Grand Trunk Railroad and the O'Gara Coal company.

The Vandalia is charged in three counts with rebating, and the Big Four is accused in 21 counts with discriminating in favor of the coal companies. The Big Four and the Chicago, Indiana and Southern are charged jointly in twenty counts with making discriminating rates and concessions in favor of the O'Gara company.

The Grand Trunk and the coal company are charged in twenty counts with receiving and granting concessions and discriminating. Ten counts jointly charge the Big Four, Chicago, Indiana and Southern, and the Grand Trunk railroads and the O'Gara Coal company with conspiracy in violating the Elkins' act of 1903.

THE CONSTITUTION'S DAILY FASHION HINT

Photograph showing one of the beautiful gowns at J. P. Allen's.

As dainty and exquisite as the one worn by Manon Lescaut in the salon scene of that famous Puccini opera is a gown at J. P. Allen's, which is creepe de chine to make of any woman who wears it a picture.

The material is cotton voile, printed in tiny design of French blue in the shades of crab apple pink and mignonette green. There is a tunic overskirt edged with lace and draped to one side, with tiny green cord buttons. The waist is of plain white voile, which has a plastron front drapery of the printed voile.

A double collar is of the pink voile overlaid with a narrower one of green, and the tiny green buttons define the four tucks, which are laid at intervals on the loose sleeve which is three-quarter length and finished with a fall of the green voile and lace. With this gown is worn a leghorn hat trimmed with lace and ribbon and closely set French flowers.

GREAT PREPARATIONS MADE FOR OLD GUARD

To Be Escorted by Marine Band and Washington Light Infantry to White House.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 16.—(Special.)—When the "Old Guard" arrive in Washington next week on their tour of peace they will be given a reception worthy of their mission. Final arrangements were perfected today for a parade from the union station white house, where they will be re-white house, where they will be received by President Wilson.

Heading the procession will be the famous Marine band, of sixty pieces, in their brilliant uniforms. The survivors of the Washington Light Infantry which entertained the Old Guard on their tour of the north in 1881, will also be ma guard of honor. They will be under the command of Colonel Charles H. Ourand, of the Army War college, the sole survivor of the old company, and Captain E. F. Davis, adjutant of the Second infantry.

The "Old Guard" will arrive early in the morning, and will be quartered at Continental hotel, near the Baltimore and the parade will not start until 1:30 o'clock.

Bryan Changes Date.

William J. Bryan, secretary of state, has changed the date of his Atlanta address from June 5 to Monday, June 2. He was invited to speak before the Georgia School of Technology on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the school, and first accepted for the 5th, but the arrangements caused him to advance the time three days.

This news was communicated to Dr. S. G. Matheson, president of the school, by Representative Howard, and the change was said to be agreeable to the school authorities.

Roddenbery Goes Home.

Representative Roddenbery left for his home in Thomasville today for a stay of about ten days or two weeks. Mr. Roddenbery has been in poor health for some time, and hopes to recuperate in Georgia.

Two Rural Route.

Representative Walker has secured the establishment of rural route No. 2, from Patterson, Pierce county, Georgia, to begin August 1. The original petition from the patrons of the office was turned down by the department, but Mr. Walker took it up again and was successful in his efforts.

Traffic Officers Meet.

The meeting of the American Traffic Officers' association here today brought to Washington several prominent Georgia railroad men. Among them were J. L. Edwards, of Atlanta, general manager of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, and W. H. Paxon, of Atlanta, general freight agent of the Southern railway.

W. H. Cutler, of Macon, general freight agent of the Georgia Southern and Florida.

Freight Cases Up Today.

Alleged discrimination against Atlanta in favor of Chattanooga on shipments from New England will be argued tomorrow before the interstate commerce commission by W. A. Winbish, of Atlanta.

eil arrived here today to argue the case, accompanied by James R. Gray, editor of The Atlanta Journal, and Harry L. Moore, of the Atlanta Freight Bureau.

Hatton Lovejoy, of LaGrange, will appear before the commission tomorrow to argue the LaGrange, Ga., freight case.

Georgia-Tech Baseball Game

Almost Queered By Big Sign

Sending Georgia to Warm Spot

Who were the sub-freshmen at Tech, who, on the very eve of their clash with Georgia on the diamond, nearly queered everything by consigning their opponents to perdition in letters ten feet long and four feet across, on the roof of one of the Tech dormitories, exactly opposite the baseball field? This is the question that both student body and faculty of Tech are asking.

For, just because of that sign, the game yesterday was called off, and the two teams would not have been allowed to play if the Tech student body had not apologized to Georgia. When President Matheson arose Friday he walked around the campus. When he reached the dormitories to the right of the chapel, he paused.

"To Hell With Georgia."

For, blazoned on the roof of one of the "shacks," as the students fondly term the dormitories, were the words, "To Hell With Georgia."

The president went at once to the telegraph office and telegraphed the sad tidings to Nat Harris, of Macon, president of the board of trustees.

Now Colonel Harris was already "sore," according to the boys, because of the burning of a certain effigy Saturday night, and he immediately wired back that the game for that afternoon should be called off. When the students heard of the decision their wrath was more terrible to see than had been Dr. Matheson's.

In a body they called on the president, and declared that the foul deed had been perpetrated by some one who had not been at the college long enough to get the spirit—it must have been done by a sub-freshman, they said.

But President Matheson stood firm. The decoration was removed from the roof by the boys, and still he stood firm. The game was off—that was all.

Finally, in desperation, the boys adopted resolutions apologizing to Georgia, at a mass meeting at the chapel. Alumni Coach Heisman, even the boys themselves, spoke, denouncing the act —and all of the denunciations went into the resolutions.

Students Deny Responsibility.

The students called on the president again.

"We didn't do it, they declared. "We aren't responsible for the actions of g few pitiful sub-freshmen. And we've apologized to Georgia—and we'll apologize to anybody and everybody else that you tell us to—only please let us play."

Whether the prexey's heart was touched or not, is still a matter of doubt. Anyway, he called up Colonel Harris on the long distance telephone, and, after a conference, removed his ban from the game.

He wouldn't say what he would do if he caught those responsible for the decorations, but it was darkly rumored that he would do some wholesale "shippin" if his investigations were successful.

Anyway, the guilty ones will be given the "silent" treatment by the rest of the boys—if they are caught.

$10,000 PRIZE OFFERED FOR AMERICAN OPERA

New York, May 18.—The National Federation of Musical Clubs announced today a competition for an American grand opera, with a prize of $10,000. The prize money has been raised by Los Angeles, which promises a production of the prize opera at the ninth biennial festival of the National Federation of Musical Clubs, to be held there late in the spring of 1914.

The competition will be subject to a censorship of librettos, which will discourage the portrayal of any sordid or vicious subject. The federation proposes a similar contest every four years.

Atlanta Booklet Won Convention of the Shriners

BY FRED HOUSER.

The booklet issued by the Atlanta Convention bureau did the work. When a representative from Buffalo suggested that neither Memphis nor Atlanta had the necessary hotel facilities, this was answered by the splendid showing of Atlanta as evidenced in these booklets, and, it is declared, the enterprise of the Atlanta bureau captured the prize.—From Constitution, May 15.

We planned, designed and printed this booklet for the Atlanta Convention bureau, also the booklet gotten out by Potentate Adair, which was mailed to the delegates to the Shrine convention.
